Reds Say They Have All Designated Properly—Can't Find Them

Munsan, Korea, Aug. 8 (AP)—With United Nations warplanes pounding North Korean military targets in redoubled fury, the UN command today asked the Reds for more information on how they mark their camps for UN prisoners of war.

The Reds have declared that all their prisoner camps are marked properly. But the senior UN truce delegate, Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, has told them that UN reconnaissance planes have been unable to find camps marked as described.

A note from Harrison asking more information was given to the Communists at Purnumjion today at a 20-minute meeting of liaison officers.

Work of Crewmen On Boxer Praised

Tokyo, Aug. 8 (AP)—U. S. Far East naval headquarters today described how heroic crewmen saved the aircraft carrier Boxer from flaming explosions which killed nine shipmates.

Minutes after flames broke out below decks at dawn Wednesday, crewmen braved smoke and inferno-like heat to unload bombs and ammunition from planes ready for strikes against the Communists in North Korea.

Other seamen donned oxygen masks and rescued comrades trapped by smoke and flames. Their skipper called it an "inspiring performance."

The navy here said the fire and explosions injured 32. The injury toll reported in Washington was 75, but a navy spokesman here said that probably included those temporarily overcome by smoke but not injured.

12 Reported Destroyed

The Washington account differed in other respects. The navy department said one exploding jet plane touched off the disaster and 12 other planes were destroyed.

Headquarters said the cause was undetermined and did not reveal extent of the damage.

The fire and explosions seared the 27,000-ton flattop's hangar deck—the level immediately below the flight deck. The navy here said merely that the flames broke out in a cluster of jet planes on the hangar deck.

A naval court of inquiry was ordered to investigate. Rear Adm. Herbert C. Regan, commander of Carrier Division One, was appointed its senior officer.

Although Capt. Marshall B. Gurney, the skipper, said the Boxer was able to carry on its mission, the carrier was sent to Japan for repairs. The explosions occurred while the Boxer was 90 miles east of Wonsan, Korean east coast port.

Five-Day Toll of Red Planes Is 18 Down, 19 Damaged in Fights

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 8 (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said American pilots shot down three Communist MIGs today in the fifth straight day of furious jet battles over North Korea.

America's 18th jet ace was crowned in the action, which brought the five-day allied toll of Russian-built jets to 18 destroyed and 19 damaged.

Capt. Clifford D. Jolley of Salt Lake City shot down his fifth MIG to qualify as an ace.

That made three kills in two days for the 31-year-old Sabre jet pilot. Today the air force confirmed a MIG he shot down July 4.

Biggest Was July 4

As a result, a spectacular Fourth of July aerial battle near the Yalu river became the biggest day of the war for U. S. airmen—13 MIGs shot down, one probably destroyed and five damaged.

The old record of 13 shot down, two probably destroyed, and one damaged was set last Dec. 13.

UN warplanes also gave powerful frontline support to ground troops who Thursday withstood the hottest day of the year—a searing 108 degrees on the western front.

On the central front, allied planes today attacked Chinese troops who Thursday night tried in vain to recapture the rugged knob called Capital Hill from South Korean infantrymen.

14 California Reds Given Maximum Term, Plus Fines

Los Angeles, Aug. 8 (AP)—California's 14 leading Communists—including a self-styled founding member of the party in Russia—are under maximum sentence of five years in prison and $10,000 fine each today for conspiracy against the United States.

The heaviest judgment possible under the Smith Act of 1940 was levied yesterday by Federal Judge William C. Mathes after he upheld the jury's guilty verdict.

The defendants, including Russian-born Frank Spector, took their sentences without flinching. All made strong, some defiant, statements maintaining innocence. All 14 filed immediate notice of intention to appeal the case to the U. S. Circuit Court.

The convicted Communists—found guilty after six months trial of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force—also professed pride in the Communist party.

"I am a founding member of the Communist party," Spector, 57, said. He dated his party entry September, 1919. He has been in the U. S. about 25 years and was Los Angeles county industrial

Conference Held On Plans to Attack Foreign Policy

Eisenhower, Nixon, Dulles Meet in Denver for Strategy Talks for Campaign

Denver, Aug. 8 (AP)—GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, his running mate and John Foster Dulles—international affairs specialist—got together today to organize a campaign attack on the Democrats' handling of foreign policy.

Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican candidate for vice president, scheduled a luncheon meeting (12:30 p. m., MST) with Dulles, chief author of the foreign policy plank of the party platform.

The conference was bringing Nixon in from the west coast and Dulles from the east for the first intensive study of foreign policy aspects of the campaign since the GOP standard bearers were chosen.

Out of the session is likely to come a decision on the extent, to which Eisenhower will strike out against the Truman administration in that field. As European defense commander until last June 1, he had a narrow development of the North Atlantic Collective Security Program sponsored by the administration.

Aims Endorsed

The general has endorsed the aims of that program, but Dulles—after the foreign policy plank had been drafted last month—reported him in complete accord with the platform's sharp criticism of many phases of the Democrats' handling of international affairs.

In the plank the Republicans charge, for example, that "the leaders of the administration in power lost the peace so dearly earned by World War 2."

And the platform preamble says the administration plunged us into war in Korea without the consent of our citizens through their authorized representatives in the Congress, and have carried on that war without will to victory.

No Report on Korea

Eisenhower has yet to say publicly whether he supports President Truman's decision which sent U. S. troops into Korea without prior approval by Congress.

The general has indicated, however, that he is ready to let fly at administration policy toward the Far East. In that field, the GOP platform gives him much ammunition.

Yesterday, Eisenhower spoke out against appeals to prejudice and bigotry in political campaign. He said "those are the tactics of the Communists."

Strike to Start

Monday Time Given

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—A strike of engineers, firemen, enginemen and conductors will start against the New York Central Railroad east of Buffalo Monday at 1 p. m. (EST), officials of three unions announced today.

The National Mediation Board only last night had asked the unions to postpone any strike action and had called for a union-management conference with board representatives today.

Union officials, in announcing the strike, declined to comment on the mediation board's efforts.

Marbletown Man Saves Boy's Life After Boat Blast

Cloyd Elias Rescues Child in Lake Champlain; Motorboat Explosion Fatal to Parent

Cloyd Elias, 35, of Marbletown, saved eight-year-old Ralph King, of Williston, from drowning, after a motorboat exploded yesterday on Lake Champlain and fatally injured the boy's father, Frank J. King, 51, it was learned today.

An Associated Press report from Williston said Frank King was operating the boat. State police said the craft exploded in Williston Bay and the cause of the blast had not been determined.

George Spade, of Marbletown, father-in-law of Elias, said the latter had telephoned him last night and told him of the mishap, but Spade said he "did not press him for details, because he said he was coming home tonight."

Both Suffer Burns

The AP report described Elias as "a summer camper from Kingston" and said he and the boy suffered burns. He was in the motorboat with King and his son at the time.

Spade said he had not been informed as to whether his son-in-law had to swim to shore with the boy, but he said Elias was "a very good swimmer," and a man who could remain calm in an emergency.

The fatally injured man, Spade said, was apparently the operator of King's Gas Station at Williston. It was at this place, he said, he had telephone contact with his son-in-law.

Will Check Story

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Attorney General McGranery said today an investigation is being made into charges that some post office employees in Chicago paid for promotion to better jobs. "A continuing investigation is in progress," he said in response to an inquiry. He declined to elaborate. At the Post Office Department, aides to Postmaster General Donaldson said postal inspectors have recently been in Chicago to conduct a routine, periodic check. They said no report from the inspection staff has been received.

Heat Caused 83 Deaths

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—The extreme heat caused 83 deaths in New York city in June and July and raised the city's general death rate, the health department reported today. Fifty-five of the heat deaths occurred in June. There were 28 in July. The department said that instead of an expected 8.7 per 1,000 of population in the general death rate last month, the hot weather raised the figure to 10.1 per 1,000. No heat deaths were recorded during all of last year, and there were only five in 1950.

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—Japan and Yugoslavia have decided to establish normal diplomatic relations, the Belgrade radio said today. It said Japan will set up a legation, headed by a charge d'affaires, in Belgrade soon.

Arterial Survey Is Tabled, Because Men Are Taken for Big Job

The problem of the narrow Washington avenue viaduct and Esopus creek bridge and New York State Thruway traffic was stressed in a letter sent yesterday to B. D. Tallamy, chairman of the State Thruway Authority, by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Engineer A. R. Erskine, formerly of the state public works department, now with the Thruway authority at Poughkeepsie, also indicated that this has been a problem with both departments, but he indicated as plans now stand, it is one without immediate solution.

Mayor Newkirk suggested that the authority postpone opening the thruway flow to and from Route 28 until a southern outlet on the thruway is completed, and Erskine indicated that because the original plan for a connection with Route 9W north of the city, has been abandoned, a connection with Route 28 appears to be the only alternative.

Is Not State Road

The state engineer said that it was originally planned to connect Route 28 and 9W in the vicinity of Lake Katrine. This connecting road has been surveyed and designed, he said, but the thruway authority in keeping with a general policy, will not build such connecting routes, and the state public works department was unable to include it in the state road program, because the existing road involved is not a state highway.

Meanwhile, he said, the state has postponed action on plans resulting from its arterial road survey of a few years ago, because of absorption of manpower in the thruway program.

Plan Is Tabled

The arterial route survey for this area took into consideration the bottleneck created by the Washington avenue viaduct and the Esopus creek bridge, but this along with other arterial route plans, has been tabled.

Mayor Newkirk said he had some discussion on the proposal to eliminate the viaduct and build a large bridge over the Esopus creek. Under this proposal, he said, if the viaduct were eliminated, the trains of the N. Y. Central Mountain Branch and the Ontario and Western branch would be required to stop at the crossings.

Trains Would Stop

A frog arrangement on the crossings, he said, would require that the trains stop and that gates be lowered and raised by personnel of the trains as they passed the crossing. This plan is considered feasible because there are so few trains on the two railroads now, but it was also indicated that the problem of the railroads' liability might be a hindrance.

No Action, Is Reported

A state official indicated today that there has apparently been no action to get placed on the state road map the section of road in the Lake Katrine area that would be required for connecting the thruway and 9W. This may mean that unless some plan is devised to coincide with present thruway plans that a connection with the super highway will be made on Route 28.

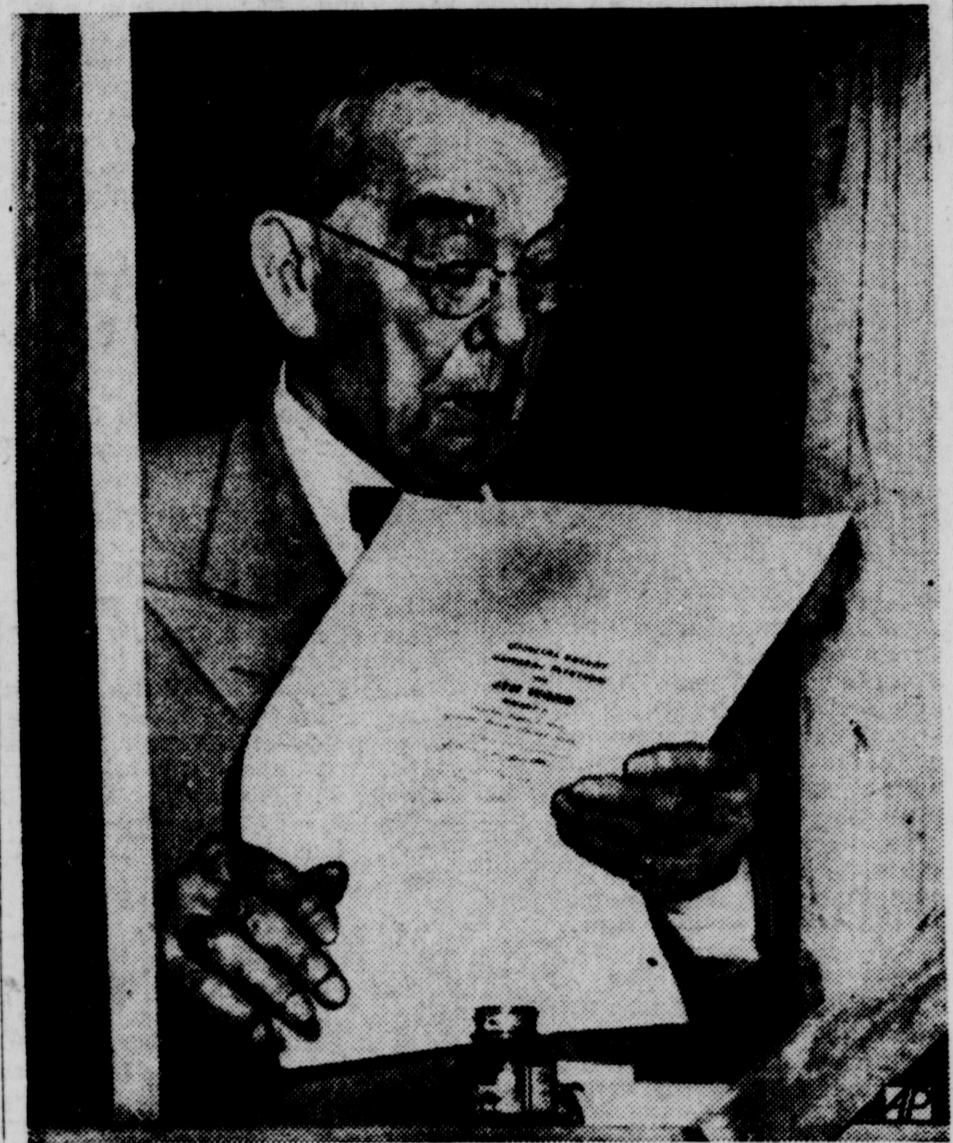

State engineers this week submitted for thruway authority approval plans which call for commoning the thruway from the Sawkill area to Route 28, and it is expected that if these plans are approved a contract will be let and the work started this fall.

Defeat Is First Suffered by Senator in His 41 Years of Political Campaigning

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 8 (AP)—Two-fisted campaigner Albert Gore, administering Kenneth D. McKellar his first political defeat in 41 years, pulled steadily away from the elderly senator today in cleanup returns from the Democratic primary.

With all but a smattering of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts in from yesterday's voting, the 44-year-old Gore had a lead of better than 60,000 over the 83-year-old McKellar.

The count from 2,101 precincts was: Gore 238,867, McKellar 175,272.

Included were returns from 100 of 162 precincts in Shelby county (Memphis) where McKellar had, as usual, the support of politico E. H. Crump. But where Crump in his political heyday delivered virtually a solid vote, the 62 precincts gave Gore 23,586 votes, McKellar 25,918.

Democrats Turn Cold Shoulder to Special Session

Doubt Is Held Lawmakers Are in Mood to Pass Any Inflation Controls

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Democrats gave a cold reception today to President Truman's suggestion he might call a special session of Congress to act on new inflation controls.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, told a reporter he thinks such action at this time would be futile.

Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma said he believes the government ought to watch the cost of living "like a hawk" but he indicated he doesn't think lawmakers are in the frame of mind now to return to Washington and act on a new controls law.

To Harm GOP?

Republicans generally were inclined to look upon Truman's statement that he has a special session call under consideration as something of a political harassment move directed at them.

Truman told a news conference yesterday he is going to wait on developments. There were indications he may discuss this and other issues with Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, when (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Many Changes Are Expected In U. S. Justice Department

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—A new round of top-level resignations in the Justice Department was reported in prospect today, and the axe is expected to fall too on some U. S. district attorneys outside Washington.

At the same time, a relatively unknown attorney—Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N. M.—was slated to take over the department's No. 2 spot succeeding A. Devitt Vanech as deputy attorney general.

Vanech resigned Monday to seek Democratic nomination for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Brian McMahon of Connecticut.

The departure of Vanech left the eighth major vacancy in the department's top echelon—started last April 4 with the firing of McGrath at the height of President Truman's government "house cleaning" campaign. McGrath stepped down after he had fired Newbold Morris, his special "house cleaner."

Behind much of the shake-up in the Justice Department has been the investigation launched last spring by a special House judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Frank Chelf (D-Ky.) and Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-N. Y.). Chelf and Committee Counsel Stephen A. Mitchell of Chicago were reported backing Malone for McGranery's chief deputy.

Besides being a friend of Mitchell, Malone is a member of the board of governors of the American Bar Association which has been seeking more voice in the selection of department personnel.

The association advocates stricter non-political professional standards for government attorneys.

While little known in official Washington, the 42-year-old Malone has a record as an able oil and gas attorney in the southwest and is described as a leader in the younger element in the bar association.

His appointment, informed sources said, probably will be followed by the firing of "at least two" district attorneys—not identified.

Mental View Is Regarded As Hearsay

Psychiatrist's Report Is Not New, Insufficient to Have Changed Jury Verdict, He Rules

Hearing Is Set

Clemency Consideration Is Set by Dewey—Execution Aug. 25

County Judge John M. Cashin has denied a motion for a new trial for Edward H. Kelly, convicted of murder in the first degree.

In a decision handed down this morning, Judge Cashin ruled that the claim of newly discovered evidence upon which the defense based its bid for a new trial failed to meet the requirements as stated in law.

The evidence—in this case a prison psychiatrist's report concluding that Kelly was suffering from "involuntal psychosis" before and during the commission of the crime—was termed by Judge Cashin in his decision as hearsay, cumulative, not newly discovered and "not such as to justify a conclusion that, if produced at the trial, it would probably have changed the verdict."

Kelly, now 52, was convicted of first degree murder for the shooting of Mrs. Eloise McHugh, then 44, on May 22, 1950. The shooting occurred about 9 a. m., on Main street in front of the entrance to the First Dutch Church, as Mrs. McHugh was walking to work.

The case was first tried in County Court in September, 1950 following a first degree indictment by the grand jury. Kelly was sentenced to death at Sing Sing prison. The Court of Appeals reversed the conviction and returned the case for retrial.

In affirming the second conviction, the Court of Appeals set the week of August 25 as the week during which Kelly is to be executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. The date presumably still stands, as the local district attorney's office has not been notified on any stay.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey has granted the defendant the right of making a plea for clemency to him. Monday, August 18, has been set as the date for the clemency hearing.

The case was retried in November, 1951, and on Nov. 28, Kelly was again sentenced to death in the electric chair following a guilty verdict by the jury. A second appeal was taken and the Court of Appeals this time upheld the conviction.

Motion Is Heard

A motion for retrial was heard in County Court on Tuesday. Appearing for the defense were John, Whitman Knapp and Jack B. Weinstein, attorneys for the defendant, and Louis G. Bruhn, district attorney, by James J. Abernethy, assistant district attorney.

Following is the text of Judge Cashin's decision denying the motion for a retrial.

Two jurists have found the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The judgment rendered upon the second trial has been unanimously affirmed by the Court of Appeals. The defendant now moves for a new trial upon the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Only Issue Was Sanity

As stated in the moving affidavit, the only issue at the trial was the defendant's sanity. Upon such issue, Dr. Joseph J. Cummings testified on behalf of the defendant that, at the time of the homicide, he suffered from "psychotic" — involuntal depression with paranoid trends" and did not know the nature and quality of his act or that it was wrong. No medical proof was offered by the People. The jury, as was their right, refused to give credence to the Doctor's testimony and found the defendant guilty as charged.

Upon the present application, the only evidence is contained in the original and supplemental affidavits of defendant's counsel and the exhibits attached thereto. The original affidavit sets forth counsel's information that the defendant has been examined by a prison psychiatrist and quotes from his report. The report itself is antedated.

Meanwhile, he said, the state has postponed action on plans resulting from its arterial road survey of a few years ago, because of absorption of manpower in the thruway program.

Plan Is Tabled

The arterial road survey for this area took into consideration the bottleneck created by the Washington avenue viaduct and the Esopus creek bridge, but this along with other arterial route plans, has been tabled.

Mayor Newkirk said he had some discussion on the proposal to eliminate the viaduct and build a large bridge over the Esopus creek. Under this proposal, he said, if the viaduct were eliminated, the trains of the N. Y. Central Mountain Branch and the Ontario and Western branch would be required to stop at the crossings.

Trains Would Stop

A frog arrangement on the crossings, he said, would require that the trains stop and that gates be lowered and raised by personnel of the trains as they passed the crossing. This plan is considered feasible because there are so few trains on the two railroads now, but it was also indicated that the problem of the railroads' liability might be a hindrance.

No Action, Is Report

A state official indicated today that there has apparently been no action to get placed on the state road map the section of road in the Lake Katrine area that would be required for connecting the thruway and 9W. This may mean that unless some plan is devised to coincide with present thruway plans that a connection with the super highway will be made on Route 28.

State engineers this week submitted for thruway authority approval plans which call for completing the thruway from the Sawkill area to Route 28, and it is expected that if these plans are approved a contract will be let and the work started this fall.

One Vote for McKellar

McKellar Is Given Bad Time by Gore In Party Primary

Defeat Is First Suffered by Senator in His 41 Years of Political Campaigning

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 8 (P)—Two-fisted campaigner Albert Gore, administering Kenneth D. McKellar his first political defeat in 41 years, pulled steadily away from the elderly senator today in clean-up returns from the Democratic primary.

With all but a smattering of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts in from yesterday's voting, the 44-year-old Gore had a lead of better than 60,000 over the 83-year-old McKellar.

The count from 2,101 precincts was: Gore 238,867, McKellar 175,272.

Included were returns from 100 of 162 precincts in Shelby county (Memphis) where McKellar had, as usual, the support of politico E. H. Crump. But where Crump in his political heyday delivered virtually a solid vote, the 62 precincts gave Gore 23,586 votes, McKellar 25,918.

Another 'In' Is Out

Democrats Turn Cold Shoulder to Special Session

Doubt Is Held Lawmakers Are in Mood to Pass Any Inflation Controls

Washington, Aug. 8 Leading Democrats gave a cold reception today to President Truman's suggestion he might call a special session of Congress to act on new inflation controls.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, told a reporter he thinks such action at this time would be futile.

Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma said he believes the government ought to watch the cost of living "like a hawk" but he indicated he doesn't think lawmakers are in the frame of mind now to return to Washington and act on a new controls law.

To Harm GOP?

Republicans generally were inclined to look upon Truman's statement that he has a special session call under consideration as something of a political harassment move directed at them.

Truman told a news conference yesterday he is going to wait on developments. There were indications he may discuss this and other issues with Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, when (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Many Changes Are Expected In U. S. Justice Department

Washington, Aug. 8 (P)—A new round of top-level resignations in the Justice Department was reported in prospect today, and the axe is expected to fall too on some U. S. district attorneys outside Washington.

At the same time, a relatively unknown attorney—Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N. M.—was slated to take over the department's No. 2 spot succeeding A. Devitt Vanech as deputy attorney general.

Vanech resigned Monday to seek Democratic nomination for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Brian McMahon of Connecticut.

Impending new changes in the department now headed by Attorney General James P. McGranery were forecast by informed sources as amounting to a virtual clean sweep of officials left over from the regime of Atty.-Gen. J. Howard McGrath, and before him, Tom Clark.

The departure of Vanech left the eighth major vacancy in the department's top echelon—starting last April 4 with the firing of McGrath at the height of President Truman's government "house

Mental View Is Regarded As Hearsay

Psychiatrist's Report Is Not New, Insufficient to Have Changed Jury Verdict, He Rules

Hearing Is Set

Clemency Consideration Is Set by Dewey—Execution Aug. 25

County Judge John M. Cashin has denied a motion for a new trial for Edward H. Kelly, convicted of murder in the first degree.

In a decision handed down this morning, Judge Cashin ruled that the claim of newly discovered evidence upon which the defense based its bid for a new trial failed to meet the requirements as stated in law.

The evidence—in this case a prison psychiatrist's report concluding that Kelly was suffering from "involuntary psychosis" before and during the commission of the crime—was termed by Judge Cashin in his decision as hearsay, cumulative, not newly discovered and "not such as to justify a conclusion that, if produced at the trial, it would probably have changed the verdict."

Kelly, now 52, was convicted of first degree murder for the shooting of Mrs. Eloise McHugh, then 44, on May 22, 1950. The shooting occurred about 9 a. m., on Main street in front of the entrance to the First Dutch Church, as Mrs. McHugh was walking to work.

Case Is Retried

The case was first tried in County Court in September, 1950 following a first degree indictment by the grand jury. Kelly was sentenced to death at Sing Sing prison. The Court of Appeals reversed the conviction and returned the case for retrial.

In affirming the second conviction, the Court of Appeals set the week of August 25 as the week during which Kelly is to be executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. The date presumably still stands, as the local district attorney's office has not been notified on any stay.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey has granted the defendant the right of making a plea for clemency to him. Monday, August 18, has been set as the date for the clemency hearing.

The case was retried in November, 1951, and on Nov. 28, Kelly was again sentenced to death in the electric chair following a guilty verdict by the jury. A second appeal was taken and the Court of Appeals this time upheld the conviction.

Motion Is Heard

A motion for retrial was heard in County Court on Tuesday. Appearances were Howard C. St. John, Whitman Knapp and Jack B. Weinstein, attorneys for the defendant, and Louis G. Bruhn, Jr., attorney for James J. Abernethy, assistant district attorney.

Following is the text of Judge Cashin's decision denying the motion for a retrial:

Two juries have found the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The judgment rendered upon the second trial has been unanimously affirmed by the Court of Appeals. The defendant now moves for a new trial upon the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Only Issue Was Sanity

As stated in the moving affidavit, the only issue at the trial was the defendant's sanity. Upon such issue, Dr. Joseph L. Cummings testified on behalf of the defendant that, at the time of the homicide, he suffered from "psychotic" — "involuntary depression with paranoid trends" and did not know the nature and quality of his act or that it was wrong. No medical proof was offered by the People. The jury, as was their right, refused to give credence to the doctor's testimony and found the defendant guilty as charged.

Upon the present application, the only evidence is contained in the original and supplemental affidavits of defendant's counsel and the exhibits attached thereto. The original affidavit sets forth counsel's information that the defendant has been examined by a prison psychiatrist and quotes from his report. The report itself is attached.

Nagasaki Plans 7th Anniversary Of Atomic Bombing

Nagasaki, Japan, Saturday, Aug. 9 (AP)—Church bells will toll and air raid sirens sound at 11 a. m. today (9 p. m. Friday EST) as the citizens of Nagasaki mark the seventh anniversary of the atom bomb dropped on the city.

The A-blast that crushed Nagasaki seven years ago today was greater than the one that pounded down on Hiroshima three days earlier in history's first wartime use of the atomic bomb.

But because Nagasaki is built on rolling hills, it suffered less physical damage. About 73,000 persons were killed in the blast and 76,800 were injured or missing.

Like Hiroshima, Nagasaki appears to have been completely recovered from the blast. Now it teems with more than its prewar population of 200,000.

Nagasaki's huge dockyards are busy, as are its steel mills and big port.

In ceremonies today, the citizens of the city will bow their heads promptly at 11 a. m., close their eyes and pray. Civic leaders will speak.

Tonight thousands of small lanterns with candles will be floated down the Yana river near the center of the atom blast. According to the Buddhist faith, these lanterns will console the victims of the bomb.

Doctor Draft Asked

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The army and air force today asked for the drafting of 371 physicians and 200 dentists in October. A Defense Department announcement said the call includes 196 doctors and 110 dentists for the army and 175 doctors and 90 dentists for the air force. Counting the October call, 1,833 doctors and 850 dentists have been inducted or ordered to active duty since last July.

Financial and Commercial

By RADER WINGET
New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Railroads with scattered support sent the stock market ahead today.

The forward push wasn't spectacular, but it was steady. Only occasional profit-taking or weekend evening operations retarded or cut back the movement.

Gains ran from fractions to better than a point. Losses were small and scattered with few exceptions.

Trading was at a rate ahead of yesterday's 1,180,000 shares, including a heavier than usual first hour bolstered by large blocks.

Raydac Is New 'Brain' -
Destined to aid in guided-missile research at the Navy Air Missile Test Center in Point Mugu, Calif., is a new electronic brain just completed at a cost of $2,000,000 in the Waltham, Mass., laboratories of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co. Diagram above shows how the thinking machine keeps track of a guided missile (1) by picking up radio-signals with receiving stations (2). Double check on speed and course is kept by radar tracking-equipment (3) which sends data through microwave-links (4) to recording instruments (5) where it is stored until fed into computer (6) for breakdown by the Raytheon Digital Automatic Computer, nicknamed RAYDAC. Console of the calculator is seen below. Solving problems in a few minutes which would take human teams 20 to 30 days, RAYDAC's 15 control panels are 44 feet long. The machine is capable of 1900 additions or subtractions, 1400 multiplications, 1100 divisions, has 5000 radio tubes or enough to build 1000 home radios.

Death of Infant Is Being Checked
Coroner Arthur C. Chipp was summoned by troopers this morning to investigate the death of a three-month-old baby found dead in his crib at a Greenfield Park resort.

Troopers said they were notified that Mrs. Dina Gilman of Brooklyn, who was vacationing at Greenfield Park, discovered her son, Marc, apparently lifeless in his crib with the blanket pulled over his head when she awoke this morning. The baby, who was born May 14, was taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital in Ellenville, where he was pronounced dead on arrival by Dr. Irving Feinberg, troopers said.

The mother told troopers that the baby had been treated by a physician the previous night for a slight cold. No coroner's verdict has been issued, pending completion of investigation by troopers and the coroner.

See Homosexuals Wrecking Resort
Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 8 (AP)—Selectmen of this Cape Cod mecca for summer tourists, asked townspeople today to support them in an attempt to rid the town of "a large homosexual element."

The selectmen's action came after receipt of a letter from a summer visitor who said her two sons have become victims of a group whose meeting places she said are on the sand dunes in the daytime and at bars at night. She said she was leaving after 10 summers residence here.

"This town is today faced with a situation which bids fair to undermine our morals, our business, in fact our very existence as a respectable summer resort," said the selectmen in a public appeal to "all decent people."

The woman who wrote the selectmen said her sons had been given "dope" in cigarettes and powder.

Asking the townspeople for "articulate and militant support," the selectmen said "we cannot sit idly by and see a small group of upsculping and godless people barter the souls of our youth for a few dirty dollars."

Conference Held
In a statement expressing wholehearted approval of a resolution calling on all Republican candidates for public office to reject such appeals as a move to "subvert the American tradition."

The resolution was adopted by the Minnesota GOP state executive committee. It says "we must demonstrate to the world that in our republic men and women of all races, creed and national origins do participate in our government as free and equal brothers under God."

A copy of the resolution was presented to Eisenhower by Mrs. Elizabeth Heffelfinger, GOP national committeewoman from Minnesota. She told reporters it was prompted by anti-Semitic attacks on both Eisenhower and Truman. Literature of that kind, she added, has been pouring into her state.

Mrs. Heffelfinger also invited Eisenhower to make a major farm policy speech at a turkey day festival at Worthington, Minn., Sept. 24. And an Iowa delegation suggested he make a similar address at Shanandoah in that state late next month or early in October.

Eisenhower expressed interest in both invitations—and in farm problems generally—but said he would have to decide later whether to accept the bids.

Democrats Turn
they meet here next week. Stevenson has accepted a Truman invitation to attend a cabinet meeting at the White House Tuesday.

Might Bother Stevenson
One Democrat who didn't want to be quoted by name told a reporter he believes a special session might be embarrassing to Stevenson, since the latter apparently is attempting to avoid too close an identification with the Truman administration.

Republicans have made it clear they would use the forum of a special session to launch all-out attacks on the President and the Democratic nominee.

And because it is in numbers a Democratic Congress, Truman had to curb the rising cost of living without putting that blame primarily on his own party rather than on the minority Republicans.

McKellar Is Given

campaigned long and earnestly throughout the state after his fourth district was eliminated in a 1951 redistricting act, piled up what seemed certain to be an insurmountable lead over McKellar during the night-long tabulation of unofficial returns from Tennessee's Democratic and Republican primaries.

Returns from 2,022 of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts gave Gore 210,300 votes, to McKellar's 155,883.

But McKellar, remaining in his hotel room at Memphis refused to concede defeat in his try for an unprecedented seventh term in the Senate.

Only Taken Opposition
The winner in the Democratic senatorial primary faces Republican opposition in the November general election. But that amounts only to token opposition in overwhelmingly Democratic Tennessee.

Hobart Atkins of Knoxville apparently was the easy victor in a three-man race for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Returns from 2,029 precincts gave Clement, a former FBI agent, 192,812 votes, Browning 165,547 and Clifford Allen, Jr., 49,982.

The Nashville Tennessean, a staunch Browning supporter, conceded Clement's victory shortly before midnight last night. Browning himself had no statement.

Memphis political leader E. H. Crump, on the comeback trail after his gubernatorial and senatorial candidacies were defeated four years ago by Browning and Senator Estes Kefauver, supported McKellar and Clement.

Couldn't Stem Tide
Crump, always a McKellar stalwart, could not stem the tide against the aging senator. Just what his support of Clement meant was a matter of conjecture.

McKellar, chairman of the appropriations committee, has been a powerful figure on the Washington political scene for more than a quarter century.

He was elected to the Senate in 1916 after serving three terms in the House. He was an early and constant advocate of the Tennessee Valley Authority and had led successful fights to appropriate millions of dollars for the agency's power program.

Gore, although still in his early 40's, is a veteran of seven terms in the House. He too, is a long-time supporter of the TVA and the nation's atomic program. He has served on the House Appropriations Committee for years.

The young congressman in his state-wide speaking campaign did not attack McKellar's record but pleaded with the voters to "send a young man to the Senate."

McKellar, campaigning in Tennessee for the first time in at least 12 years, sought reelection so that he could "finish my program for Tennessee." He made only two major speeches during the primary campaign.

R. Beecher Witt of Madisonville was unsupported for the Republican nomination for governor.

Wife Charges Assault
Melvin Passer, 28, of 12 Newkirk avenue, was arrested at 7:25 p. m. yesterday on a warrant executed by officers Walter Fitzgerald and Francis Fagan and charging third degree assault. His wife, the complainant, charges that on Aug. 5 he slapped and struck her and pushed her out of a car, the information said. The case was put over to Aug. 14 when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and he was released under $25 bail.

the mountain route, an engineer said, it will probably mean that traffic to and from the thruway as well as that using Route 28 will be going in and out of the city over the narrow bridge and viaduct for about a year before the super highway is extended southward.

Several years ago state officials considered a plan that would have meant a single structure replacing the viaduct over the two railroads and the bridge over the Esopus creek, but present available information indicates that this has been abandoned.

Nagasaki Plans 7th Anniversary Of Atomic Bombing

Nagasaki, Japan, Saturday, Aug. 9 (AP)—Church bells will toll and air raid sirens sound at 11 a. m. today (9 p. m. Friday EST) as the citizens of Nagasaki mark the seventh anniversary of the atom bomb dropped on their city.

The A-blast that crushed Nagasaki seven years ago today was greater than the one that pounded down on Hiroshima three days earlier in history's first wartime use of the atomic bomb.

But because Nagasaki is built on rolling hills, it suffered less physical damage. About 73,000 persons were killed in the blast and 76,800 were injured or missing.

Like Hiroshima, Nagasaki appears to have completely recovered from the blast. Now it teems with more than its prewar population of 200,000.

Nagasaki's huge dockyards are busy, as are its steel mills and big port.

ceremonies today, the citizens of the city will bow their heads promptly at 11 a. m., close their eyes and pray. Civic leaders will speak.

Tonight thousands of small lanterns with candles will be floated down the Yana river near the center of the atom blast. According to the Buddhist faith, these lanterns will console the victims of the bomb.

Grappling Fails In LaVallee Search

Efforts to recover the body of Barge Captain Frank LaVallee of the Bronx, believed drowned in the Rondout creek, were unsuccessful on Thursday.

Grappling operations were continued through the day until about 4 p. m. under the direction of Sheriff Cluett Schantz. Tugs from the Callanan Road Improvement Company, meanwhile churned the waters in an attempt to dislodge the body in case it were caught under a stone barge.

Was Not Body

Sheriff's men were recalled to the creek between Abel street and the Callanan property late last night, when observers believed they saw the body rise to the surface after Capt. LaVallee's own barge, the Louise, churned the water. The report proved to be mistaken according to Under-Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg.

LaVallee was last seen swimming in the creek shortly before 11 o'clock Wednesday night, after the small boat in which he was rowing capsized, according to reports of the sheriff's office and Kingston police. William Jones, 60, a guest aboard the Louise, who was in the boat with LaVallee, was rescued.

By RADER WINGET

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Railroads with scattered support sent the stock market ahead today.

The forward push wasn't spectacular, but it was steady. Only occasional profit-taking or week-end evening operations retarded or cut back the movement.

Gains ran from fractions to better than a point. Losses were small and scattered with few exceptions.

Trading was at a rate ahead of yesterday's 1,190,000 shares, including a heavier than usual first hour bolstered by large blocks.

Calls for Spotters To Replace Some

Faced with the necessity of soon replacing volunteer aircraft spotters who will be returning to school and college, Mrs. George Dewey Logan, supervisor of the Kingston Ground Observers' Post, today announced she will accept registration of both men and women at the city hall tonight.

Persons desiring to volunteer for spotting duty may register in the Civil Defense office at the city hall between 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. today. Women are needed for the day shifts and men for the night shifts, Mrs. Logan stated. The local observation post is currently being manned 24 hours a day, seven days a week, under orders of the air force.

'Raydac' Is New 'Brain' ...

Destined to aid in guided-missile research at the Navy Air Missile Test Center in Point Magu, Calif., is a new electronic brain just completed at a cost of $2,000,000 in the Waltham, Mass., laboratories of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co. Diagram above shows how the thinking machine keeps track of a guided missile (1) by picking up radio-signals with receiving stations (2). Double check on speed and course is kept by radar tracking-equipment (3) which sends data through microwave-links (4) to recording instruments (5) where it is stored until fed into computer (6) for breakdown by the Raytheon Digital Automatic Computer, nicknamed RAYDAC. Console of the calculator is seen below. Solving problems in a few minutes which would take human teams 20 to 30 days, RAYDAC's 15 control panels are 44 feet long. The machine is capable of 1900 additions or subtractions, 1400 multiplications, 1100 divisions, has 5000 radio tubes or enough to build 1000 home radios.

Death of Infant Is Being Checked

Coroner Arthur C. Chipp was summoned by troopers this morning to investigate the death of a three-month-old baby found dead in his crib at a Greenfield Park resort.

Troopers said they were notified that Mrs. Dina Gilman of Brooklyn, who was vacationing at Greenfield Park, discovered her son, Marc, apparently lifeless in his crib with the blanket pulled over his head when she awoke this morning. The baby, who was born May 14, was taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital in Ellenville, where he was pronounced dead on arrival by Dr. Irving Feinberg, troopers said.

The mother told troopers that the baby had been treated by a physician the previous night for a slight cold. No coroner's verdict has been issued, pending completion of investigation by troopers and the coroner.

O'Reilly Injured In Two-Car Crash

Hubert O'Reilly, 46, of Esopus suffered a possible skull fracture and other injuries in a two-vehicle accident on Route 9W at West Park about 10 p. m. Thursday, state police of Highland reported.

O'Reilly was taken to the Benedictine Hospital, where his condition at noon today was reported as "fair."

Troopers said O'Reilly was driving south on Route 9W when his automobile became involved in a collision with a Styles Express truck driven by John Bockelman, whose address was given as 75 Prospect street.

A passenger in the O'Reilly automobile, identified by troopers as Jack Eagle, 27, of Waco, Tex., suffered cuts, bruises and possible concussion, troopers said. No injuries were reported to the driver of the express truck, and no arrest was made.

Viaduct, Creek

the mountain route, an engineer said, it will probably mean that traffic to and from the thruway as well as that using Route 28 will be going in and out of the city over the narrow bridge and viaduct for about a year before the super highway is extended southward.

Several years ago state officials considered a plan that would have meant a single structure replacing the viaduct over the two railroads and the bridge over the Esopus creek, but present available information indicates that this has been abandoned.

McKellar Is Given

campaign long and earnestly throughout the state after his fourth district was eliminated in a 1951 redistricting act, piled up what seemed certain to be an insurmountable lead over McKellar during the night-long tabulation of unofficial returns from Tennessee's Democratic and Republican primaries.

Returns from 2,022 of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts gave Gore 210,300 votes, to McKellar's 155,883.

But McKellar, remaining in his hotel room at Memphis, refused to concede defeat in his try for an unprecedented seventh term in the Senate.

Only Token Opposition
The winner in the Democratic senatorial primary faces Republican opposition in the November general election. But that amounts only to token opposition in overwhelmingly Democratic Tennessee.

Robert Atkins of Knoxville apparently was an easy victor in a three-man race for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Returns from 2,029 precincts gave Clement, a former FBI agent, 192,812 votes, Browning 165,547 and Clifford Allen, Jr., 49,982.

The Nashville Tennessee, a staunch Browning supporter, conceded Clement's victory shortly before midnight last night. Browning himself had no statement.

Memphis political leader E. H. Crump, on the comeback trail after his gubernatorial and senatorial candidacies were defeated four years ago by Browning and Senator Estes Kefauver, supported McKellar and Clement.

Couldn't Stem Tide
Crump, always a McKellar stalwart, could not stem the tide against the aging senator. Just what his support of Clement meant was a matter of conjecture.

McKellar, chairman of the appropriations committee, has been a powerful figure on the Washington political scene for more than a quarter century.

He was elected to the Senate in 1916 after serving three terms in the House. He was an early and constant advocate of the Tennessee Valley Authority and had led successful fights to appropriate millions of dollars for the agency's power program.

Gore, although still in his early 40's, is a veteran of seven terms in the House. He, too, is a long-time supporter of the TVA and the nation's atomic program. He has served on the House Appropriations Committee for years.

The young congressman in his state-wide speaking campaign did not attack McKellar's record but pleaded with the voters to "send a young man to the Senate."

McKellar, campaigning in Tennessee for the first time in at least 12 years, sought reelection so that he could "finish my program for Tennessee." He made only two major speeches during the primary campaign.

R. Beecher Witt of Madisonville was unopposed for the Republican nomination for governor.

Wife Charges Assault

The case was put over to Aug. 14 when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mine today and he was released under $25 bail.

Man's Sons Plan To Make Appeal

Wendell, N. H., Aug. 8 (AP)—The two war veteran sons of Carl Latvia, 49-year-old Finnish-born mail worker ordered deported because he signed a Communist membership card in 1934, say they will appeal to President Truman in the hope "he'll now fight for us."

His sons, Carl and Paul, told newsmen last night they will send a telegram to Truman asking him to save their father from deportation to Finland—the country he left when a child of 13.

Detroiters Get Their Letters; Mailman Had Hoard of Them

Detroit, Aug. 8 (AP)—Thousands of east side Detroit residents today began receiving letters four and five years old as postal inspectors sifted through a basement-filling pile of undelivered and stolen mail.

The letters, estimated at more than 10,000, plus tons of packages containing every form of mailable merchandise, were recovered in the house of Roman Kortes, a 50-year old veteran mailman.

Kortes pleaded guilty in Federal Court here yesterday, less than six hours after his arrest to two charges of embezzlement from the mails.

"I had to do it," was all the mail carrier could offer in explanation at his arraignment.

Out on Bond Federal Judge Theodore Levin released Kortes on a personal bond pending sentence.

The charges against the mailman carry a maximum penalty of ten years in prison and a $4,000 fine.

A veteran of 28 years in the postal service, Kortes was only seven years from retirement when postal officials uncovered his fantastic hoard of packages and letters—a collection so large that two mail trucks were required to return it to the post office for sorting and identification.

Postal Inspector Earl Wheeler said Kortes had no real reason for the thefts which dated back as far as ten years.

"I didn't get anything out of it," the mail carrier said, "I just had to take those things. It didn't seem right to leave them lying around. My wife told me I'd be caught, too. She warned me, time after time, I guess she was right."

Says He Stole Packages Kortes admitted that the letters were addressed to persons along the routes he served from the Gratiot sub-station. He said he stole the packages since he did not carry parcel post packages.

Postal inspectors found the letters and packages stacked in neat piles in Kortes' basement—many ran from the floor to the ceiling.

Postal officials began investigating Kortes after householders along his route complained of not receiving packages and letters sent to them.

Several said they received notification of the arrival of a package, but were unable to pick the package up when they called for it at the post office.

Held for Watch Thefts Berlin, Aug. 8 (AP)—Two West Berlin youths were arrested today for hunting and fishing for wrist watches. Police said they caught the pair shooting holes in a jewelry store window with powerful slingshots and then hooking the watches with fishing poles.

Detroiters Get Their Letters; Mailman Had Hoard of Them

Detroit, Aug. 8 (AP)—Thousands of east side Detroit residents today began receiving letters four and five years old as postal inspectors sifted through a basement-filling pile of undelivered and stolen mail.

The letters, estimated at more than 10,000, plus tons of packages containing every form of mailable merchandise, were recovered in the house of Roman Kortes, a 50-year old veteran mailman.

Kortes pleaded guilty in Federal Court here yesterday, less than six hours after his arrest to two charges of embezzlement from the mails.

"I had to do it," was all the mail carrier could offer in explanation at his arraignment.

Out on Bond

Federal Judge Theodore Levin released Kortes on a personal bond pending sentence.

The charges against the mailman carry a maximum penalty of ten years in prison and a $4,000 fine.

A veteran of 28 years in the postal service, Kortes was only seven years from retirement when postal officials uncovered his fantastic hoard of packages and letters—a collection so large that two mail trucks were required to return it to the post office for sorting and identification.

Postal Inspector Earl Wheeler said Kortes had no real reason for the thefts which dated back as far as ten years.

"I didn't get anything out of it," the mail carrier said. "I just had to take those things. It didn't seem right to leave them lying around. My wife told me I'd get caught, too. She warned me, time after time, I guess she was right."

Says He Stole Packages

Kortes admitted that the letters were addressed to persons along the routes he served from the Gratiot sub-station. He said he stole the packages since he did not carry parcel post packages.

Postal inspectors found the letters and packages stacked in neat piles in Kortes' basement—many ran from the floor to the ceiling.

Postal officials began investigating Kortes after householder along his route complained of not receiving packages and letters sent to them.

Several said they received notification of the arrival of a package, but were unable to pick the package up when they called for it at the post office.

Held for Watch Teams

Berlin, Aug. 8 (AP)—Two West Berlin youths were arrested today for hunting and fishing for wrist watches. Police said they caught the pair shooting holes in a jewelry store window with powerful slingshots and then hooking the watches with fishing poles.

NEED UNIFORM SAFETY LAWS

In at least one state automobile drivers are now being issued lifetime operator's permits which don't even need renewing.

This sort of thing could encourage a person so incapacitated by age, infirmity, or alcohol that he can hardly walk on his own two legs to simply get his car and drive where he's going.

Also, of the 48 states and the District of Columbia, only 17 have compulsory motor vehicle inspection.

Twenty-six have no compulsory inspection at all, five leave the matter up to the individual towns and cities, and one authorizes spot inspection by police.

Partly as the result of such hit-or-miss regulations, deaths caused by motor vehicle accidents last year hit an all-time high of 37,000. And the toll of injured rose to 1,300,000.

In a grimly fascinating booklet entitled "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council goes into some of the causes and circumstances of these accidents, which last year killed twice as many Americans as have lost their lives in more than two years of Korean war fighting.

For instance, regarding the faulty mechanical condition of vehicles, which could be greatly improved by periodic compulsory inspection, reports from 25 states indicate that about 6 per cent of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents had one or more unsafe conditions. About one-third of the defects were unsafe brakes, a sixth were blowouts or other tire defects, and another sixth were improperly adjusted or burned-out lights.

Speeding was the most important driver violation in fatal accidents. Approximately 28 per cent of the fatal-accident drivers were going too fast for safety under the prevailing conditions—traffic, weather, type of road.

In cities, right-of-way violations were second in importance. In the country, it was failure to keep to the right of the center line.

Others were being under the influence of alcohol, improper passing, and ignoring the signals of a policeman or traffic control device, such as a stop sign or red light.

A special study carried out by the states of Connecticut, Massachusetts, Nebraska and Wisconsin showed that young people are by far the most dangerous drivers.

More traffic deaths occur in October than in any other month, with September, November and December also bad. This is despite the fact the peak motor vehicle traffic load occurs in August. The fewest traffic deaths occur in February.

Reports from 21 states indicated that 80 per cent of the fatal accidents occurred on straight roads, 13 per cent on sharp turns and 7 per cent on curves.

On the basis of motor vehicle deaths per 100 million vehicle miles, Rhode Island was safest last year with 3.0, Massachusetts and Connecticut each has 3.9 and South Dakota 4.5.

At the bottom of the safety list were Arizona and New Mexico with 12.9 each and Nevada and South Carolina with 12.0.

If further proof is needed that driving is a hazardous business, witness rising auto insurance rates. Both hazards and rates could be reduced, however, by stiffer and more uniform state regulations governing the condition of both the driver and his car.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Carbon monoxide poisoning, caused by gas leaks or incomplete combustion of gas in defective home appliances, kills about 1,000 persons every year, according to the National Safety Council.

New York city alone reported 222 deaths from accidental and undetermined carbon monoxide in 1950. An inspection of 22,328 apartments in older areas uncovered 11,056 appliances which were leaking raw gas, were otherwise dangerous, or were in bad repair. Of these appliances, 8,085 were gas ranges and 2,140 were gas refrigerators.

During a 10-year period, from 1940 through 1949, there were 2,442 accidental gas poisonings in New York city and 40 per

THE RIGHTS OF THE DEFENSE

So-called liberals reject the right of our government to defend itself against those who oppose its existence, except against armed force. A government is not a mechanical instrument that is brought into existence to serve some necessary social and political functions. It is not a mere expression of majority rule.

Pope Pius XII once put it this way: "The people lives and moves by its own life energy; the masses are inert of themselves and can only be moved from outside. The people lives by the fullness of life in the men that compose it, each of whom—in his proper place and in his own way—is a person conscious of his own responsibility and of his own views."

"The masses, on the contrary, waiting for the impulse from outside, become an easy plaything in the hands of anyone who seeks to exploit their instincts and impressions."

A government represents the traditions, the ideals, the hopes, the aspirations of a people. A proud people seeks to defend itself against every force, every power that aims to destroy it. A proud people never dies. Such small nations as the Jews, the Armenians, the Syrians, the Kashmiri, the Finns do not die, because they have a tradition of life.

All the forces in our land that seek to destroy the character of our nation and our government, that would submerge us into a mass of nations indistinguishable from all others, need to be resisted. In a series of investigations by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the McCarran Committee, by grand juries, in trials such as that of Alger Hiss and Harry Bridges, we have begun to discover a design for the perversion of our country not by an outside enemy but by our own children, misguided, misled, frightened by the era of war in which they live.

Another investigative agency has been probing deeply into this problem. It is the "Subversive Activities Control Board," an agency of the executive branch of the government. This agency has been investigating the Communist Party itself and in the course of its inquiry questions were asked of John Gates, a high official of the Communist Party, now imprisoned. The colloquy which follows is of more than casual interest:

Q. Suppose you Communists were successful and established your system in this country, what measures would you take against those who would destroy your government by force and violence?

"Marcantonio: I object. Pretty soon he will be asking him the difference between two blades of grass."

"Chairman Brown: Objection overruled. "Gates: That can only be established by a majority. The Communist Party would be part of that majority and in the leadership, I hope. Such a government would have every right to defend itself against any attempt to destroy it by force and violence."

Gates is quite correct. If his party came into power, it would naturally defend itself from any attempt to destroy it by force and violence. That is precisely what all the investigative agencies, public and private, are doing now; they are defending the right of their nation and government to exist.

There are some who deny to citizens the right to organize to safeguard their country. They say that that is an exclusive function of the government. Is it possible to believe that citizens may organize to destroy their country but that none may organize to defend their country? The right of our people to organize is inviolable and that right becomes a virtue if its object is to preserve our traditional forms of life.

Gates was asked whether he could give one instance in which the Daily Worker, of which he was editor, supported this government in opposition to the Soviet Union.

"A. I can't think of any such instance because in my opinion the Soviet Union has never put forward policies in any way contrary to the interests of the American people, and that is our sole standard."

This one answer explains everything. He denies the validity of all that his own government has said on this subject and accepts as gospel truth all that Soviet Russia has said on the subject.

The liberals stand between the patriots and those enslaved to a foreign foe. They try to see both sides with a frigid objectivity. Yet, unless they fervently believe in America, they are strengthening its enemies. The middle-of-the-roaders pave the way for those who plan America's destruction.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PAINKILLING DRUGS FOR SPRAINS

For many years, I had the opportunity of treating athletes—university, prep school and professional football players, basketball players, wrestlers, boxers and others—who at I encountered many severe sprains. The treatment followed was use of hot applications in which Epsom salts were also used. After an X-ray examination was made, the joint itself was kept at rest until the swelling was gone, after which adhesive tape was applied and changed weekly for a couple of weeks. The joint was moved by patient in various directions, hot water used for a few minutes, and the joint re-taped. As a safeguard, after the joint felt strong, an elastic bandage was used for three or four weeks. This treatment was lengthy, but experience had been that a shorter treatment usually meant that the same joint was easily sprained again and continued this way for years.

It was with great surprise, therefore, that I learned that medical officers were injecting procaine into a sprained joint, taping it with adhesive, and allowing the soldier or sailor to return to duty at once or within a day or two. While I could not see how a painkilling drug would help heal sprained torn ligaments, I wrote about this form of treatment which certainly got the men back to duty in a very short time.

We are now learning that this "short" form of treatment, using painkilling drugs, is not the success in the long run that it was believed to be, according to an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association in which Dr. T. B. Quigley states that novocaine (procaine) has no place in the treatment of ligament sprains in athletes. "Under the influence of a painkilling drug, a minor sprain might easily become major."

The editorial then describes the effects of injecting the drug and allowing the athletes (baseball players in this case) to continue to use the sprained joint, causing a great delay in final healing and further sprains even after light use of the joint.

"The various pressure put on athletes to keep them in the game with sprained joints or other injuries by use of painkilling drugs have been responsible for allowing many young men to risk serious permanent injury and have no place in sport."

Aw, C'mon Boys! Look at This One for Awhile!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — For about four months the State Department has been haggling with Dictator Franco of Spain regarding the proposed Spanish air and naval bases which Franco so glibly promised over a year ago when he wanted American cash, and which he has crossed on ever since the cash was voted.

Although France, England, Italy, Greece and Turkey have turned over their soil to American forces for airfields and naval bases, Franco continues to hold back—until he gets exactly his terms.

These terms include 1) more U. S. dollars with no strings attached; 2) modern tanks, planes and artillery for the Spanish army which the U. S. army needs primarily in Korea, second here at home, and third for the European army.

Meanwhile, Franco has not even been willing to get rid of the strict Spanish laws against foreign capital, which if abolished would invite American dollar investments in Spain by private enterprise. The State Department has asked for the modification of these laws in partial return for U. S. government loans, but Franco has said no.

U. S. diplomats figure that one reason Franco is so stubborn is because he knows he has powerful friends in Washington and that the money for Spain already has been appropriated by Congress. Since he's going to get the money anyway, he undoubtedly figures there's no use giving naval bases and airports in return for it.

Among his friends are powerful Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada and Charles Patrick Clark, who is paid $75,000 annually to influence congressmen on behalf of Spain. McCarran once had the gall to summon the head of the Export-Import Bank, Herbert Gaston, and put him on the griddle in front of the Spanish ambassador as to why he had not loaned money faster to Spain.

Bulldozing the Diplomats
More recently, Senator McCarran proceeded to hawl out James Bonbright, the diplomat handling Spanish negotiations, during secret hearings on the State Department's appropriation. Since McCarran sits on the subcommittee which decides how much money the State Department can get from Congress each year, he could have a whip hand over policy.

"Why is it," McCarran demanded of Bonbright, "that none of the $100,000,000 has been allocated to Spain? Nothing has been done for Spain out of the $100,000,000, not a dollar of it."

"That was voted for economic, technical, and military assistance in the discretion of the President," replied Bonbright at the secret hearing. "It has seemed to us that the use of these funds will depend on our over-all military requirements."

"You are negotiating with Spain, are you not, for bases and ports?" snapped McCarran.

"Those have been surveys, sir," said Bonbright. "They were surveys to see what the facilities were and generally to break the ice."

"How long does it take to find out?" shouted the senator from Nevada. "How long does it take these studies to be made before you make a move? Does it require a war to be started before you will do anything in Spain?"

"No, indeed, sir," winced the State Department witness. "We are going to start very shortly. I have heard that with a grain of salt," grumbled the Nevada. Then he snapped at Bonbright accusingly: "You do not seem to know much about it, any more than you know much about your department, from what I have listened to this morning."

Spain and NATO
McCarran also tried to blame President Truman's cool attitude toward Spain on the hapless witnesses.

"Why is there no mention in the President's message as to Spain, do you know?" he demanded.

"I do not know, sir," Bonbright shook his head.

"Does your Bureau of European Affairs have anything to do with the preparation of the President's statement relative to the Franco government in Spain?" McCarran pressed.

"No, sir," said Bonbright.

"Are you sure of that?" persisted the senator.

"Absolutely, sir," replied Bonbright.

Having reached a dead end, McCarran huffed off in another direction and demanded that Spain be admitted into the North Atlantic Pact.

But Bonbright threw cold water on the suggestion and again stirred up the senator's wrath.

"I think the fact is, sir," said Bonbright, "that the chances of getting Spain into the Atlantic Pact now are bad."

"Why," bellowed McCarran. "Is it because Great Britain does not want her in? Is that it?"

"I think you will find many more countries," Bonbright started to explain. But McCarran cut him short.

"Great Britain wants to enjoy out of the trade of Spain," exploded the Nevada. "She is enjoying the trade of Spain in the amount of hundreds of millions of dollars and wants to keep it out. That is the principal thing, is it not? Then you have a small continent in France, of Spanish refugees who were run out of Spain—the Communists—who are fighting the admission of Spain."

McCarran Is Stumped
"I do not know any European country, sir, outside of Portugal, that has indicated a favorable attitude toward inviting Spain in now," retorted Bonbright.

"The Congress of the United States has appropriated $100,000,000 to assist her economically, and she knows all that. How do you expect to get concessions from Spain when you do not go along with that policy the Congress has set up?" sizzled McCarran.

"Sir," spoke up Bonbright, "the Spanish government, for one thing, has taken the public position that it does not want to join the North Atlantic Treaty."

This stopped the rumbling, raving McCarran short.

"Are you sure of that?" he demanded incredulously.

"Yes, sir," assured Bonbright, and he read a news dispatch quoting Spanish Foreign Minister Martin Atoaga directly.

This left McCarran without a word to say. Hastily he changed the subject.

Today in Washington

Wilson and Cox Held Session in 1920 Similar to Projected Cabinet Meeting

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 8 — News broadcasts blared forth across the country several times on the radio the other night a press association dispatch from Washington which said that "old-timers at the White House" couldn't recall any similar meeting between a President and a nominee for president such as is planned for next week between Mr. Truman and Governor Stevenson.

Just who the "old-timers" weren't divulged, but they couldn't have been very "old" time, or else they just conveniently forgot one of the most sensational episodes in political campaigning the last time a Democratic president had just such a conference with a Democratic nominee.

There was an episode in 1920 which was a turning point in the campaign and contemporary writers say it did as much as anything else to defeat the Democratic nominee.

It happened on Sunday morning, July 18, 1920, and the scene was the White House south portico, where President Wilson and Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, the Democratic nominee of the convention which had taken place two weeks before, met at the invitation of Mr. Wilson.

Present at the conference, too, was the vice presidential nominee, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who at the time was assistant secretary of the navy. While in Washington, Mr. Cox visited the secretary of war, Newton D. Baker and other officials in the Wilson administration.

But it was the joint statement issued after the historic meeting that caused the furore. President Wilson's statement said in part: "The interview was in every respect most satisfactory and gratifying. I found, what I, indeed, already knew and what Governor Cox has let the whole world know in his speech, that he and I are at one with regard to the great issue of the League of Nations."

"Governor Cox will have the vigorous support of an absolutely united party."

Governor Cox said in part: "What Mr. (Wilson) promised, I shall, if elected, endeavor with all my life to give. We are agreed as to the meaning and the sufficiency of the Democratic platform."

Senator Warren Harding, the Republican nominee, began his attack the same day. He said in part:

"The significance of the announcement will not be missed. There is just one way that he (Governor Cox) can establish accord between himself and the President and that is by yielding his own opinion at every point to the President. When the nominee establishes accord with the President it means that the latter is in charge of the campaign and will be the real force in the next administration if it is Democratic."

Then Harding began asking questions on foreign policy, seeking to put Governor Cox on the spot as to whether he favored international commitments all over the globe as the Republicans seemed to think would result from ratification of the League of Nations covenant.

The Wilson-Cox meeting furthermore enabled the Republicans to charge that the election of the Ohio governor would mean merely a continuation of the Wilson administration's policies all along the line. At that time the Wilson regime was unpopular both in the domestic and foreign field with a large number of voters who had previously voted the Democratic ticket.

Harding won the election, even though he was not in the same class with Cox in ability, stump speaking, or intelligence. The tag of "Wilsonism," however, hurt Cox's chances immeasurably.

But the "old-timers" at the White House who don't seem to recall meetings between outgoing presidents and the nominees are forgetting other meetings, too. William Howard Taft was a member of the cabinet of President Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, and actually submitted the draft of his speech of acceptance to Mr. Roosevelt. Herbert Hoover was a member of the cabinet of President Coolidge in 1928 and had plenty of opportunity for conferences with the incumbent president.

The trouble is, it's been so long since there has been an "outgoing president"—the one before Mr. Truman served four terms—that it is no wonder the "old-timers" don't remember what used to happen in the days before the Constitution was disregarded before a certain president dictated his own re-nomination as long as he lived. A young woman who writes essays for the Syracuse Post-Standard lost her temper a few days ago and abused me for my discussions of the senseless antics of the delegates and the Hessian demonstrators at the Republican and Democratic conventions. This lady, by name Grace Lewis, writes out of that very ignorance of the true nature of our form of government which I was deploring.

You may recall that Eleanor Roosevelt's instinctive, and only, counter-attack on Elizabeth Bentley, when that courageous young woman finally elected to go through hell to purge herself of crimes against her country in traitorous collusion with certain swindlers of the Democrats was a disgrace. The Party of Humanity, the party of the common man, had become the Cocktail Party and the Champagne Party and the Souze Party.

I spent several happy years on the sport side of the Chicago Tribune and old friends there told me that Mrs. India Edwards, whose nomination for vice president turned the babbling farce into insult, had left her old job on the Tribune's society desk in personal rebellion against the unfeeling frivolity of the "society" women of the town. Then she went to Washington where she caught on as a professional politician, for the now, in her own Chicago, her moment of triumph, the lady boasted of having lost a husband and a son in two successive wars of that Democratic Party and glorified that party, though the revelries on all sides had been drunken orgies which will live in history. They whooped up their vast lot of the poor and wretched.

NEED UNIFORM SAFETY LAWS

In at least one state automobile drivers are now being issued lifetime operator's permits which don't even need renewing.

This sort of thing could encourage a person so incapacitated by age, infirmity, or alcohol that he can hardly walk on his own two legs to simply get his car and drive where he's going.

Also, of the 48 states and the District of Columbia, only 17 have compulsory motor vehicle inspection.

Twenty-six have no compulsory inspection at all, five leave the matter up to the individual towns and cities, and one authorizes spot inspection by police.

Partly as the result of such hit-or-miss regulations, deaths caused by motor vehicle accidents last year hit an all-time high of 37,000. And the toll of injured rose to 1,300,000.

In a grimly fascinating booklet entitled Accident Facts, the National Safety Council goes into some of the causes and circumstances of these accidents, which last year killed twice as many Americans as have lost their lives in more than two years of Korean war fighting.

For instance, regarding the faulty mechanical condition of vehicles, which could be greatly improved by periodic compulsory inspection, reports from 25 states indicate that about 6 per cent of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents had one or more unsafe conditions. About one-third of the defects were unsafe brakes, a sixth were blowouts or other tire defects, and another sixth were improperly adjusted or burned-out lights.

Speeding was the most important driver violation in fatal accidents. Approximately 28 per cent of the fatal-accident drivers were going too fast for safety under the prevailing conditions—traffic, weather, type of road.

In cities, right-of-way violations were second in importance. In the country, it was failure to keep to the right of the center line.

Others were being under the influence of alcohol, improper passing, and ignoring the signals of a policeman or traffic control device, such as a stop sign or red light.

A special study carried out by the states of Connecticut, Massachusetts, Nebraska and Wisconsin showed that young people are by far the most dangerous drivers.

More traffic deaths occur in October than in any other month, with September, November and December also bad. This is despite the fact the peak motor vehicle traffic load occurs in August. The fewest traffic deaths occur in February.

Reports from 21 states indicated that 80 per cent of the fatal accidents occurred on straight roads, 13 per cent on sharp turns and 7 per cent on curves.

On the basis of motor vehicle deaths per 100 million vehicle miles, Rhode Island was safest last year with 3.0. Massachusetts and Connecticut each has 3.9 and South Dakota 4.5.

At the bottom of the safety list were Arizona and New Mexico with 12.9 each and Nevada and South Carolina with 12.0.

If further proof is needed that driving is a hazardous business, witness rising auto insurance rates. Both hazards and rates could be reduced, however, by stiffer and more uniform state regulations governing the condition of both the driver and his car.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Carbon monoxide poisoning, caused by gas leaks or incomplete combustion of gas in defective home appliances, kills about 1,000 persons every year, according to the National Safety Council.

New York city alone reported 222 deaths from accidental and undetermined carbon monoxide in 1950. An inspection of 22,328 apartments in older areas uncovered 11,056 appliances which were leaking raw gas, were otherwise dangerous, or were in bad repair. Of these appliances 8,085 were gas ranges and 2,140 were gas refrigerators.

During a 10-year period, from 1940 through 1949, there were 2,442 accidental gas poisonings in New York city and 40 per

THE RIGHTS OF THE DEFENSE

So-called liberals reject the right of our government to defend itself against those who oppose its existence, except against armed force. A government is not a mechanical instrument that is brought into existence to serve some necessary social and political functions. It is not a mere expression of majority rule.

Pope Pius XII once put it this way: "The people lives and moves by its own life energy; the masses are inert of themselves and can only be moved from outside. The people lives by the fullness of life in the men that compose it, each of whom—in his proper place and in his own way—is a person conscious of his own responsibility and of his own views."

"The masses, on the contrary, waiting for the impulse from outside, become an easy plaything in the hands of anyone who seeks to exploit their instincts and impressions."

A government represents the traditions, the ideals, the hopes, the aspirations of a people. A proud people seeks to defend itself against every force, every power that aims to destroy it. A proud people never dies. Such small nations as the Jews, the Armenians, the Syrians, the Kashmiri, the Finns do not die, because they have a tradition of life.

All the forces in our land that seek to destroy the character of our nation and our government, that would submerge us into a mass of nations indistinguishable from all others, need to be resisted. In a series of investigations by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the McCarran Committee, by grand juries, in trials such as that of Alger Hiss and Harry Bridges, we have begun to discover a design for the perversion of our country not by an outside enemy but by our own children, misguided, misled, frightened by the era of war in which they live.

Another investigative agency has been probing deeply into this problem. It is the "Subversive Activities Control Board," an agency of the executive branch of the government. This agency has been investigating the Communist Party itself and in the course of its inquiry questions were asked of John Gates, a high official of the Communist Party, now imprisoned. The colloquy which follows is of more than casual interest:

"Q. Suppose you Communists were successful and established your system in this country, what measures would you take against those who would destroy your government by force and violence?"

"Marcantonio: I object. Pretty soon he will be asking him the difference between two blades of grass."

"Chairman Brown: Objection overruled."

"Gates: That can only be established by a majority. The Communist Party would be part of that majority and in the leadership, I hope. Such a government would have every right to defend itself against any attempt to destroy it by force and violence."

Gates is quite correct. If his party came into power, it would naturally defend itself from any attempt to destroy it by force and violence. That is precisely what all the investigative agencies, public and private, are doing now; they are defending the right of their nation and government to exist.

There are some who deny to citizens the right to organize to safeguard their country. They say that that is an exclusive function of the government. Is it possible to believe that citizens may organize to destroy their country but that none may organize to defend their country? The right of our people to organize is inviolable and that right becomes a virtue when its object is to preserve our traditional forms of life.

Gates was asked whether he could give one instance in which the Daily Worker, of which he is editor, supported this government in opposition to the Soviet Union.

"A. I can't think of any such instance because in my opinion the Soviet Union has never put forward policies in any way contrary to the interests of the American people, and that is our sole standard."

That one answer explains everything. He denies the validity of all that his own government has said on this subject and accepts as gospel truth all that Soviet Russia has said on the subject.

The liberals stand between the patriots and those enslaved to a foreign foe. They try to see both sides with a frigid objectivity. Yet, unless they fervently believe in America, they are strengthening its enemies. The middle-of-the-road pave the way for those who plan America's destruction.

That Body of Yours

PAINKILLING DRUGS FOR SPRAINS

For many years, I had the opportunity of treating athletes—university, prep school and professional football players, basketball players, wrestlers, boxers and others—so that I encountered many severe sprains. The treatment followed was use of hot applications in which Epsom salts were also used. After an X-ray examination was made, the joint itself was kept at rest until the swelling was gone, after which adhesive tape was applied and changed weekly for a couple of weeks. The joint was moved by patient in various directions, hot water used for a few minutes, and the joint re-taped. As a safeguard, after the joint felt strong, an elastic bandage was used for three or four weeks. This treatment was lengthy, but experience had been that a shorter treatment usually meant that the same joint was easily sprained again and continued this way for years.

It was with great surprise, therefore, that I learned that medical officers were injecting procaine into a sprained joint, taping it with adhesive, and allowing the soldier or sailor to return to duty at once or within a day or two. While I could not see how a painkilling drug would help heal sprained torn ligaments, I wrote about this form of treatment which certainly got the men back to duty in a very short time.

We are now learning that this "short" form of treatment, using painkilling drugs, is not the success in the long run that it was believed to be, according to an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association in which Dr. T. B. Quigley states that novocaine (procaine) has no place in the treatment of ligament sprains in athletes. "Under the influence of a painkilling drug, a minor sprain might easily become major."

The editorial then describes the effects of injecting the drug and allowing the athletes (baseball players in this case) to continue to use the sprained joint, causing a great delay in final healing and further sprains even after light use of the joint.

"The various pressure put on athletes to keep them in the game with sprained joints of other injuries by use of painkilling drugs have been responsible for allowing many young men to risk serious permanent injury and have no place in sport."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — For about four months the State Department has been haggling with Dictator Franco of Spain regarding the proposed Spanish air and naval bases which Franco so glibly promised over a year ago when he wanted American cash, and which he has dragged on ever since the cash was voted.

Although France, England, Italy, Greece and Turkey have turned over their soil to American forces for airfields and naval bases, Franco continues to hold back—until he gets exactly his terms.

These terms include 1) more U. S. dollars with no strings attached; 2) modern tanks, planes and artillery for the Spanish army which the U. S. army needs primarily in Korea, second here at home, and third for the European army.

Meanwhile, Franco has not even been willing to get rid of the strict Spanish laws against foreign capital, which if abolished would invite American dollar investments in Spain by private enterprise. The State Department has asked for the modification of these laws in partial return for U. S. government loans, but Franco has said no.

U. S. diplomats figure that one reason Franco is so stubborn is because he knows he has powerful friends in Washington and that the money for Spain already has been appropriated by Congress. Since he's going to get the money anyway, he undoubtedly figures there's no use giving naval bases and airports in return for it.

Among his friends are powerful Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada and Charles Patrick Clark, who is paid $75,000 annually to influence congressmen on behalf of Spain. McCarran once had the gall to summon the head of the Export-Import Bank, Herbert Bonbright, the diplomat handling Spanish negotiations, during secret hearings on the State Department's appropriation. Since McCarran sits on the subcommittee which decides how much money the State Department can get from Congress each year, he could have a whip hand over policy.

"Why is it," McCarran demanded of Bonbright, "that none of the $100,000,000 has been allocated to Spain? Nothing has been done for Spain out of the $100,000,000, not a dollar of it."

"That was voted for economic, technical, and military assistance in the discretion of the President," replied Bonbright at the secret hearing. "It has seemed to us that the use of these funds will depend on our over-all military requirements."

"You are negotiating with Spain, are you not, for bases and ports?" snapped McCarran. "Those have been surveys, sir," said Bonbright. "They were surveys to see what the facilities were and generally to break the ice."

"How long does it take to find out?" shouted the senator from Nevada. "How long does it take these studies to be made before you make a move? Does it require a war to be started before you will do anything in Spain?"

"No, indeed, sir," winced the State Department witness. "We are going to start very shortly." "I have heard that before, so I am just taking it with a grain of salt," grumbled the Nevada. Then he snapped at Bonbright accusingly: "You do not seem to know much about it, any more than you know much about your department, from what I have listened to this morning."

Spain and NATO

McCarran also tried to blame President Truman's cool attitude toward Spain on the hapless witness.

"Why is there no mention in the President's message as to Spain, do you know?" he demanded.

"I do not know, sir," Bonbright shook his head.

"Does your Bureau of European Affairs have anything to do with the preparation of the President's statement relative to the Franco government in Spain?" McCarran pressed.

"No, sir," said Bonbright. "Are you sure of that?" persisted the senator.

"Absolutely, sir," replied Bonbright.

Having reached a dead end, McCarran huddled off in another direction and demanded that Spain be admitted into the North Atlantic Pact.

But Bonbright threw cold water on the suggestion and again stirred up the senator's wrath.

"I think the fact is, sir," said Bonbright, "that the chances of getting Spain into the Atlantic Pact now are bad."

"Why," bellowed McCarran. "Is it because Great Britain does not want her in? Is that it?" "I think you will find many more countries," Bonbright started to explain. But McCarran cut him short.

"Great Britain wants to enjoy the trade of Spain," exploded the Nevada. "She is enjoying the trade of Spain in the amount of hundreds of millions of dollars and wants to keep us out. That is the principal thing, is it not? Then you have a small contingent in France, of Spanish refugees who were run out of Spain—the Communists—who are fighting the admission of Spain."

McCarran Is Stumped

"I do not know any European country, sir, outside of Portugal, that has indicated a favorable attitude toward inviting Spain in now," retorted Bonbright.

"The Congress of the United States has appropriated $100,000,000 to assist her economically, and she knows all that. How do you expect to get concessions from Spain when you do not go along with that policy the Congress has set up?" sizzled McCarran.

"Sir," spoke up Bonbright, "the Spanish government, for one thing, has taken the public position that it does not want to join the North Atlantic Treaty."

This stopped the rumbling, raving McCarran short.

"Are you sure of that?" he demanded incredulously.

"Yes, sir," assured Bonbright, and he read a news dispatch quoting Spanish Foreign Minister Martin Atoaga directly.

This left McCarran without a word to say. Hastily he changed the subject.

Wilson and Cox Held Session in 1920 Similar to Projected Cabinet Meeting

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 8 — News broadcasts blared forth across the country several times on the radio the other night a press association dispatch from Washington which said that "old-timers at the White House" couldn't recall any similar meeting between a President and a nominee for president such as is planned for next week between Mr. Truman and Governor Stevenson.

Just who the "old-timers" were wasn't divulged, but they couldn't have been very "old time"—or else they just conveniently forgot one of the most sensational episodes in political campaigning the last time a Democratic president had just such a conference with a Democratic nominee. There was an episode in 1920 which was a turning point in the campaign and contemporary writers say it did as much as anything else to defeat the Democratic nominee.

It happened on Sunday morning, July 18, 1920, and the scene was the White House south porch, where President Wilson and Governor James M. Cox of Ohio the Democratic nominee of the convention which had taken place two weeks before, met at the invitation of Mr. Wilson.

Eleanor never had seen Miss Bentley. Eleanor is not a doctor. Yet she presumed to make an insulting, probably libelous, offhand, self-serving quick diagnosis. Her own husband angrily resented similar speculation about his health back around 1937. A man who had ventured to discuss early faint manifestations of the symptoms which became flagrant and tragic at Yalta in 1944, was hounded out of Washington journalism as a blasphemer.

But, of course, there is one law for the Roosevelt and another for the Common Man. If such be fair comments in enlightened political debate, as of course no qualified argumentarian would admit, then Miss Bentley's retort might have been that Eleanor herself had evinced in her associations with Joe Lash and her trooper friend, Earl Miller, symptoms of neurosis no less significant.

Posed for His Portrait in His Shroud
The great English poet John Donne (1573-1631), Dean of St. Paul's, in London, wore his mortal shroud for five weeks before he died. He started to wear it on Feb. 23, 1631, and continued to wrap himself in it daily until he died March 31. Being greatly worried about how he would be portrayed after death, he caused his death portrait to be painted in life. The pose was used by the sculptor who made the statue which now adorns Donne's tomb in St. Paul's. Donne is the poet from whom Hemingway took the title of his novel, "For Whom The Bell Tolls." "Therefore send not to know for whom the bell tolls, it tolls for thee!"

Food Agency Formed
For School Lunches

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—A new state agency is planned to store and distribute 2 1/2 million dollars worth of food a year for school lunch programs.

The State Education Department will supervise an agency set up to handle the project, previously operated by the U. S. Agriculture Department.

State and federal officials set the plan in motion at a meeting yesterday.

The state will buy surplus food from the federal government and distribute it to schools and public institutions. An Education Department said it would consider whether to rent seven storage warehouses.

In the past the Agriculture Department made individual contracts with schools. An official of the Education Department said there was no central agency to coordinate the project, and that the arrangement was largely ineffective.

Elaborate Plan
Awaits O'Connells
For Maine Holiday

Augusta, Me., Aug. 8 (AP)—Fulfillment of a Flushing, N. Y. boy's dream of a Maine vacation is taking on proportions of a Hollywood production today, complete with cameras.

The Maine Development Commission said when 11-year-old Billy O'Connell and his family come to Maine they will be barraged by popping flashbulbs all the way from Grand Central station through Boston and on to Portland and Newcastle. Even television photographers are making arrangements for coverage, the MDC said.

The O'Connell family will spend a week at Holly Inn at Christmas Cove, guests of the management. Billy has been promised a day's sail along the coast, a day of deep sea fishing, a trip with a lobsterman and his choice of the catch, a swimming party with neighborhood kids and a blueberry picking expedition.

State Is His

For the rest of the week or so he'll be in Maine, "whatever he wants, someone in the state will get it for him—flying over the state, mountain climbing, just about anything," MDC Publicity Director Earl Doucette said.

Billy's trip to Maine took shape this week after his mother, Mrs. Kay O'Connell, wrote to the Portland Evening Express. She asked the newspaper to remind Maine children how much better was their lot than Billy's. Then came a deluge of invitations.

Billy, his father, William, his mother and his two sisters, Patsy, 9, and Carol, 3, will leave New York at 7:30 a. m., EDT Saturday, pass through Boston at 11:30, leaving for Maine at noon. They are due in Newcastle at 3:46 p. m., where Richard Starke, Holly Inn manager, will meet them and take them to Christmas Cove, 15 miles south on the coast.

Mrs. Reynolds Gets
Divorce and $2 Million

Miami, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—The marriage of red-haired Marianne O'Brien and Richard J. Reynolds Jr., the tobacco heir, came officially to an end here yesterday when Mrs. Reynolds received a divorce and $2,000,000.

Reynolds filed the original divorce suit, charging his wife with indiscretions in Paris with Porfirio Rubirosa, former husband of tobacco heiress Doris Duke.

Mrs. Reynolds, who denied the charge in a cross-petition and declared she went to Paris to look for her husband, was granted a divorce on grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Reynolds received custody of their children, Michael, 5, and Patrick, 3, but her husband may visit them and later will have custody during summer vacations.

OUT IN THE SUBURBS

A wife writes: "My husband and I have just recently moved out of the city to a new development in the suburbs. Many of the streets are still unpaved and therefore a lot of dirt is tracked into the house. I have just bought Oriental rugs for my floors and prize them highly. Is there any way I can suggest to the people who come to the house to wipe their feet before entering without seeming fussy?"

Even though one advantage of Oriental rugs is that they can stand roughest usage with least harm (which should somewhat relieve your anxiety) a door mat of efficient width would certainly aid protection and invite use.

Hoped-For Insurance

Dear Mrs. Post: Last week while driving home with a friend from our vacation, we were in an automobile accident. As the trip was a long one, my friend and I took turns driving. The accident occurred while I was driving her car. Fortunately, no one was injured but there was considerable damage to the car. I feel terrible about it as the car was a new one. Should I take the car to a mechanic and have it repaired or just what is proper in a situation of this kind?

Answer: I can't imagine that the owner carried no insurance, and I hope it is completely covered. In any case, however, the owner is responsible for letting you drive.

Lunch Check Problem

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a woman executive in a large company, and very often it is necessary for me to take men customers to lunch. The men always seem embarrassed to have me pay the check and often try to pick it up themselves. This creates a very awkward situation. Can you offer a solution to this problem?

Answer: If you can take them to your club, that is best. If not run a charge account in the restaurant of your choice and have the bills sent to your office. Have tip ready to give waiter as you leave table.

Many questions are asked about engagements, the ring, the length of time, calling on families, and announcements, and Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, these questions are answered in leaflet E-1. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. GOOD TASTE
By EMILY POST

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

OUT IN THE SUBURBS

A wife writes: "My husband and I have just recently moved out of the city to a new development in the suburbs. Many of the streets are still unpaved and therefore a lot of dirt is tracked into the house. I have just bought Oriental rugs for my floors and prize them highly. Is there any way I can suggest to the people who come to the house to wipe their feet before entering without seeming fussy?"

Even though one advantage of Oriental rugs is that they can stand roughest usage with least harm (which should somewhat relieve your anxiety) a door mat of efficient width would certainly add protection and invite use.

Hoped-For Insurance

Dear Mrs. Post: Last week while driving home with a friend from our vacation, we were in an automobile accident. As the trip was a long one, my friend and I took turns driving. The accident occurred while I was driving her car. Fortunately, no one was injured but there was considerable damage to the car. I feel terrible about it as the car was a new one. Should I take the car to a mechanic and have it repaired or just what is proper in a situation of this kind?

Answer: I can't imagine that the owner carried no insurance, and I hope it is completely covered. In any case, however, the owner is responsible for letting

Lunch Check Problem

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a woman executive in a large company, and very often it is necessary for me to take men customers to lunch. The men always seem embarrassed to have me pay the check and often try to pick it up themselves. This creates a very awkward situation. Can you offer a solution to this problem?

Answer: If you can take them to your club, that is best. If not run a charge account in the restaurant of your choice and have the bills sent to your office. Have tip ready to give waiter as you leave table.

Many questions are asked about engagements, the ring, the length of time, calling on families, and announcements, and Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, these questions are answered in leaflet E-1. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Food Agency Formed
For School Lunches

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—A new state agency is planned to store and distribute 2½ million dollars worth of food a year for school lunch programs.

The State Education Department will supervise an agency set up to handle the project, previously operated by the U. S. Agriculture Department.

State and federal officials set the plan in motion at a meeting yesterday.

The state will buy surplus food from the federal government and distribute it to schools and public institutions. An Education Department said it would consider whether to rent seven storage warehouses.

In the past the Agriculture Department made individual contracts with schools. An official of the Education Department said there was no central agency to coordinate the project, and that the arrangement was largely ineffective.

Elaborate Plan
Awaits O'Connells
For Maine Holiday

Augusta, Me., Aug. 8 (AP)—Fulfillment of a Flushing, N. Y. boy's dream of a Maine vacation is taking on proportions of a Hollywood production today, complete with cameras.

The Maine Development Commission said when 11-year-old Billy O'Connell and his family come to Maine they will be barraged by popping flashbulbs all the way from Grand Central station through Boston and on to Portland and Newcastle. Even television photographers are making arrangements for coverage, the MDC said.

The O'Connell family will spend a week at Holly Inn at Christmas Cove, guests of the management. Billy has been promised a day's sail along the coast, a day of deep sea fishing, a trip with a lobsterman and his choice of the catch, a swimming party with neighborhood kids and a blueberry picking expedition.

State Is His

For the rest of the week or so he'll be in Maine, "whatever he wants, someone in the state will get it for him—flying over the state, mountain climbing, just about anything," MDC Publicity Director Earl Doucette said.

Billy's trip to Maine took shape this week after his mother, Mrs. Kay O'Connell, wrote to the Portland Evening Express. She asked the newspaper to remind Maine children how much better was their lot than Billy's. Then came a deluge of invitations.

Billy, his father, William, his mother and his two sisters, Patsy, 9, and Carol, 3, will leave New York at 7:30 a. m., EDT Saturday, pass through Boston at 11:30, leaving for Maine at noon. They are due in Newcastle at 3:46 p. m., where Richard Starke, Holly Inn manager, will meet them and take them to Christmas Cove, 15 miles south on the coast.

Mrs. Reynolds Gets
Divorce and $2 Million

Miami, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—The marriage of red-haired Marianne O'Brien and Richard J. Reynolds Jr., the tobacco heir, came officially to an end here yesterday when Mrs. Reynolds received a divorce and $2,000,000.

Reynolds filed the original divorce suit, charging his wife with indiscretions in Paris with Porfirio Rubirosa, former husband of tobacco heiress Doris Duke.

Mrs. Reynolds, who denied the charge in a cross-petition and declared she went to Paris to look for her husband, was granted a divorce on grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Reynolds received custody of their children, Michael, 5, and Patrick, 3, but her husband may visit them and later will have custody during summer vacations.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 8.—The Democratic Party has many supporters who always have been wealthy. The party, nevertheless, aims its appeal primarily at the masses who depend for their living on wages. The Republican Party aims also to help the masses in basic ways; but has not tried to increase money wages. Labor, therefore, believes it must uphold the Democrats to retain the so-called "labor gains" achieved since 1932.

The importance of the foregoing is brought out by some statistics recently compiled on the ownership of shares of stock in this country. According to the latest authoritative estimate, there are approximately 6,500,000 owners of stock, after elimination of duplications.

As the civilian labor force of the country, exclusive of agricultural labor, is around 54,000,000 (including 15,000,000 union members) it is obvious that the direct owners of stocks and bonds are overwhelmingly outnumbered by wage earners. Victory on November 4th will fall to the candidate who can get a majority of the wage earners to vote to protect the stocks and bonds owned by the life insurance companies and banks in which they have their savings.

Democrats Avoid Harming Labor
The Republicans will have to strike hard indeed between now and November 4th if they are to win. This is because most of the "sins" they ascribe to the Democrats are not greatly resented by wage workers, as these sins are mostly against capital or property, not against "labor."

To many voters whose principal asset is their weekly wage, charges of corruption are noises from another world. What do they care if some big shot is accused of cheating the Government? The apparent effect on their pay is nil. They suspect, moreover, that crookedness is the usual thing among higher-ups in politics and business.

Republicans will harp on the tax burden; but the wage earner feels the impact of taxes too little. They are concealed from him or withheld from his pay. His income tax never gets into his pocketbook. He never experiences the pain of parting with his tax money. The tax situation will not cause many wage earners to desert the Democrats.

Although the wives of wage earners are becoming increasingly irked by the rise in the cost-of-living, not even this will cause wage workers to vote Republican. Up to now wages, in many lines, have kept abreast of rising costs. The wage worker, however, fears unemployment more than a rising cost-of-living. Many can recall that when there was no inflation and the cost-of-living was low, jobs were scarce. Higher prices and a pay check are infinitely preferable to low prices and no pay check!

Korea Is Vulnerable Point
One Republican charge will find sympathetic listeners among wage earners. They all share resentment of the humiliating bungle of the Democratic Asian policy. Eisenhower, with his aura of invincibility, will have a strong appeal for wage earners when thinking of Korea.

I have intentionally segregated agricultural from industrial workers. Most farmers and farm workers have been Republicans traditionally; but many were lured into Democratic ranks by crop price "parity." This defeated Dewey in 1948. This time the Republicans are promising gravity to the farmers. With farmers back in the Republican fold, and with wage earners disgusted over Korea, Eisenhower and Nixon may win; but it will require very hard work to beat Stevenson and Sparkman.

Where Do the Churches Stand?
The real hope of the United States and the World lies with neither the Republican nor the Democratic parties, per se. Notwithstanding the appeals of all candidates for the "help of Almighty God," God's Will is 95 per cent ignored when it conflicts with "practical politics." America must have a spiritual awakening to be saved.

Under present conditions, both the political and labor leaders are able to ignore our 60,000,000 Church Members because we are equally divided between the two major Political Parties. Should not confessed followers of Jesus refuse to be tied to any single Party? Let us be the silent independent voters for such local, state and national candidates who will work hardest for Righteousness. This is the great need.

Girls Paint Garage Murals

Lakewood, Calif. (AP)—Two 17-year-old high school girls found some left-over house paint and turned it into life-sized Hawaiian murals on their garage. Both girls, Jeanette Wallace and Pat Brehm, are art students and their handiwork has received numerous compliments. In fact, says Pat, a neighbor has hired them to do murals on three sides of his patio.

Over $3 Million Asked For 'Sub' Improvement

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—The city board of transportation has asked $3,800,000 for a moving platform to replace the subway shuttle between Times Square and Grand Central terminal—a distance of about six blocks.

Sidney H. Bingham, board chairman, said yesterday that plans also call for extending the moving platform beyond Grand Central to Lexington avenue to make connections with East Side subway lines.

"We know the conveyor belt will be successful," Bingham said. "It costs about $375,000 a year to operate the present shuffle system while the conveyor belt will cost less than half that amount."

The sum asked by the board has been earmarked for inclusion in the 1953 capital budget now before the city planning commission.

Fire in Rail Car

Westerley, R. I. Aug. 8 (AP)—A combination car carrying New York newspapers and passengers on the New Haven Railroad's State of Maine Express was gutted by fire early today. A New Haven spokesman said a trainman's lantern overturned and fired the newspapers. Passengers passed quietly into the other cars and the burning car was left on a siding a mile east of here where the local fire department put out the blaze. The express continued its run, only minutes behind schedule.

Marine's Recovery From Sclerosis Gives New Hope

Thousands of other multiple sclerosis sufferers are seeing a new lease of life because of Thomas Murphy of Flushing-Hillcrest, who up until three months ago was soon to die of paralysis and blackouts due to the malady and who today is working at a new job and very much alive. The story of the Marine's recovery is published in the Long Island Star-Journal follows:

The chain of events started in May when the Marine Corps Father's Association took an interest in the dying ex-Leatherneck and asked its physician, Dr. Emanuel Abrahamson, a Manhattan specialist, to make a diagnosis.

Dr. Abrahamson reversed the seven-year findings of military and Veterans Administration doctors and began treating Tom for hyper-insulinism, or blood sugar starvation, instead of multiple sclerosis, a hardening of the tissues.

He also told Tom he wasn't going to die, that he'd probably outlive most of the physicians who pressed an early end.

Stages Comeback
In the next few weeks Murphy staged a remarkable comeback, much to the joy of his 28-year-old wife, Agnes, and their youngsters, ranging in age from one to 10, living with him in an apartment at 77-25 170th street.

Meanwhile, Dr. Abrahamson reverted to the sclerosis diagnosis, but continued the hyper-insulinism treatment, without sugar, just the same.

It worked so well—Tom went to part-time work in the Jamaica Postoffice—that the doctor and his associates extended it to other sclerosis patients in Manhattan's Bellevue Hospital.

Can Walk And See
One young fellow who was blind and unable to walk as a result of the dread malady responded to the therapy and was soon walking around. Today he can see.

Reports of other successes began to filter in. Soon everyone getting the miracle treatment began improving.

So Tom's suffering since 1945, when he was stricken while serving with the Marines, was not in vain. Mrs. Murphy quoted the specialist as saying: "The new treatment for sclerosis was indicated, would benefit great number of shut-ins."

Gets Aircraft Job
Murphy now works at the Grumman aircraft plant at Bethpage, a job he got two weeks ago when business at the postoffice slackened. A friend drives him to and from the factory.

Things are better. For months the five Murphys were forced to struggle along on Tom's lean disability pension from the government.

But the family's troubles aren't over by a long shot.

Mrs. Murphy was found to have hyper-insulinism, on examination by Dr. Abrahamson. The two old girls have rheumatic fever, and the youngest needs an operation.

Men have made footwear out of wood, ivory, metal, textiles, straw, paper, rubber, and raw skins.

UNCLE EF

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 8.—The Democratic Party has many supporters who always have been wealthy. The party, nevertheless, aims its appeal primarily at the masses who depend for their living on wages. The Republican Party aims also to help the masses in basic ways; but has not tried to increase money wages. Labor, therefore, believes it must uphold the Democrats to retain the so-called "labor gains" achieved since 1932.

The importance of the foregoing is brought out by some statistics recently compiled on the ownership of shares of stock in this country. According to the latest authoritative estimate, there are approximately 6,500,000 owners of stock, after elimination of duplications.

As the civilian labor force of the country, exclusive of agricultural labor, is around 54,000,000 (including 15,000,000 union members) it is obvious that the direct owners of stocks and bonds are overwhelmingly outnumbered by wage earners. Victory on November 4th will fall to the candidate who can get a majority of the wage earners to vote to protect the stocks and bonds owned by the life insurance companies and banks in which they have their savings.

Democrats Avoid Harming Labor
The Republicans will have to strike hard indeed between now and November 4th if they are to win. This is because most of the "sins" they ascribe to the Democrats are not greatly resented by wage workers, as these sins are mostly against capital or property, not against "labor."

To many voters whose principal asset is their weekly wage, charges of corruption are noises from another world. What do they care if some big shot is accused of cheating the Government? The apparent effect on their pay is nil. They suspect, moreover, that crookedness is the usual thing among higher-ups in politics and business.

Republicans will harp on the tax burden; but the wage earner feels the impact of taxes too little. They are concealed from him or withheld from his pay. His income tax never gets into his pocketbook. He never experiences the pain of parting with his money. The tax situation will not cause many wage earners to desert the Democrats.

Although the wives of wage earners are becoming increasingly irked by the rise in the cost-of-living, not even this will cause wage workers to vote Republican. Up to now wages, in many lines, have kept abreast of rising costs. The wage worker, however, fears unemployment more than a rising cost-of-living. Many can recall that when there was no inflation and the cost-of-living was low, jobs were scarce. Higher prices and a pay check are infinitely preferable to low prices and no pay check!

Korea Is Vulnerable Point
One Republican charge will find sympathetic listeners among wage earners. They all share resentment of the humiliating bungle of the Democratic Asian policy. Eisenhower, with his aura of invincibility, will have a strong appeal for wage earners when thinking of Korea.

I have intentionally segregated agricultural from industrial workers. Most farmers, and farm workers have been Republicans traditionally; but many were lured into Democratic ranks by crop price "parity." This defeated Dewey in 1948. This time the Republicans are promising gravy to the farmers. With farmers back in the Republican fold, and with wage earners disgusted over Korea, Eisenhower and Nixon may win, but it will require very hard work to beat Stevenson and Sparkman.

Where Do the Churches Stand?
The real hope of the United States and the World lies with neither the Republican nor the Democratic parties, per se. Notwithstanding the appeals of all candidates for the "help of Almighty God," God's Will is 95 per cent ignored when it conflicts with "practical politics." America must have a spiritual awakening to be saved.

Under present conditions, both the political and labor leaders are able to ignore our 60,000,000 Church Members because we are equally divided between the two major Political Parties. Should not confessed followers of Jesus refuse to be tied to any single Party? Let us be the silent independent voters for such local, state and national candidates who will work hardest for Righteousness. This is the great need.

KAA Little Leaguers Send Newell Against Nationals' Ivor Dingae

Berth in Finals At Stake Today In Crucial Game

Both Pitchers Rank With Tourney's Best

Southpaw Glenn Newell goes against the powerful Poughkeepsie Nationals and Ivor Dingae in a win-or-lose District 3 Little League tournament semi-final this evening at the 156th FA diamond.

Newell, a polished performer in his first tournament outing, meets an equally capable hurler in Dingae, who stopped Hyde Park, 6 to 1, on three hits and struck out 10 batters in his tournament debut.

Today's victor moves into the tournament finals Saturday at 3 o'clock against the Poughkeepsie Town Americans.

KAA Little League officials expect the largest crowd to date with prospects running high for an old-fashioned pitching duel between Newell and Dingae. A 1-0 decision either way is not unexpected.

Pitchers Ready
The KAA forces under Coaches Bill Thomas and John Hasbrouck have their pitching staff in top shape for the big test. Besides the regular "Big Four" of Newell, Dan Steltz, Timmy Fisher and Charlie Boice, they have in Tom Van Etten, a second sacker, a capable relief hurler.

If Newell gets by the Poughkeepsie Nationals who yesterday thumped Hopewell Junction, 6 to 3, the call goes to Big Dan Steltz in Saturday's climatic contest against the Bridge City foe. If not Steltz, the KAA board of strategy may pull a Howard Emhke with Charlie Boice.

Cutten Is Winner
Harold Cutten of the Nationals stopped Hopewell Junction on three scattered hits and struck out nine in yesterday's clash in which a five-run rally in the fourth inning resolved the issue. The winners collected nine hits off two Hopewell Junction pitch-

Layne Predicts Kayo Over Charles
Ogden, Utah, Aug. 8 (AP)—Youthful heavyweight Rex Layne said today he is going after Ezzard Charles in their 10-round bout tonight like he was fighting for the title.

"I'm going to knock him out," Layne said, "and I'll be after him all the way." But the 24-year-old Lewiston, Utah, strongboy said he rather not predict the round.

But Charles and his handlers had a different version of the outcome. "Ezzy is ready for Rex," Jake Mintz, Charles' co-manager announced. "If he should lose this one, he's about through. But a victory tonight will put him back in the picture."

Although both Layne and Charles have beaten heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott, the fight reputation of each is sagging badly after recent losses.

There will be no television or radio broadcast.

Merchants Book Two Games Sunday
Manager Bill "Pucker" Davis' Colonial Merchants have an off day Sunday from regulation play in the City Baseball League but that's where their idleness ends.

Breaking up his charges into two squads, Davis will send one group to Grand Gorge for a 2:05 p. m. encounter while the other team will travel to Woodstock for another afternoon tussle.

Angie Fondino and George Telepas are due for mound work against Grand Gorge, which according to the local pilot, has clicked off 26 straight victories. Andy Juhl will do the catching in the Grand Gorge tilt.

Joe Modica and Bob Shlightner are scheduled to divide pitching chores in the Woodstock clash with Boice doing the catching.

Win for Ankaway
Westbury, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ankaway cracked the winning column last night in his 10th start of the 1952 season when Billy Houghton drove the six-year-old pacer to a head victory in the featured Hither Hills race in 2:04 1/5 at Roosevelt Raceway. Casanova was second and Sep Hanover third. Ankaway paid $8.20, $6.30 and $3.80.

Elks Nine Defeats Rotary, 3 to 1; American Legion Leads By Game

Fraternal League Expects Big Crowd

BULLETIN—Today's scheduled "big game" between the Rotary and American Legion in the Fraternal Youth League has been postponed.

The American Legion is out in front by a full game in its torrid duel with the Rotary in the Fraternal Youth League.

The Elks surprised the Rotary in yesterday's game to put the Rotarians a full game behind the Legion.

Jim Palumbo stopped the Rotary cold on two scattered singles yesterday to gain a 3-1 decision over Dick Nagele in handing Rotary its second loss of the campaign.

The Rotary setback increased the American Legion's first place margin to a full game. The Legion can move out by itself with a victory today, while Rotary is marshalling its forces to create a tie.

The Elks scored their three runs in the second inning, combining Jim Nerone's triple and singles by Nick Kearney and Jack Redmond with some loose fielding by the Rotary. The winners collected five hits off Nagele who struck out seven.

Nerone Starts Rally
Nerone tripped to Nagele's error after Ron Jensen fied out. Redmond singled and reached third on successive passed balls. Tom Davitt walked and Redmond scored the second run when the second baseman miscued on a head force play on Davitt. A fielder's choice loaded the bases and Nick Kearney drilled a single to right field chasing Davitt across the plate.

Palumbo lost his shutout in the second inning when Houghtaling and Lindhurst connected for the two Rotary safeties. Houghtaling led off with a single, stole second, and rode home on an infield out and rode home on Lindhurst's blow. The Rotarians had runners on base in the third, fourth and sixth but failed to come up with the payoff hits. The Elks also had chances in the third and fourth.

The seven hits in the game went to seven different players, with Jim Nerone's triple the only extra base hit.

Oakland, Calif.—Frank Buford-Leonard Morrow heavyweight bout postponed to Aug. 16.

McGrath Champion At Table Tennis
Jack McGrath of Cornell Park defeated his teammate, Donald Davis, in straight sets, 21-12 and 21-15, to capture the city senior park table tennis championship yesterday at St. Mary's Field.

McGrath moved into the finals with a one set, 21-19, squeaker over Jimmy Woods of Block Park, while Davis turned back Red Smith of Hutton Park, 21-16.

There were two entries from each playground. Jack McGrath and Donald Davis represented Cornell Park. Jim Woods and Jack Houghtaling played under the Block Park banner. Other entries included Tom Neal and Jack Armstrong, St. Mary's; Joe Aiello and Red Smith, Hutton Park; Richard Dempsey and Bob Leverenz, Hasbrouck Park.

Judges for the contests were Carol Mehm, Block Park; Barbara Hearst, Cornell Park; Pat Sanford, Hutton Park; Barbara Schultz, Lorraine McGinnis, Hasbrouck Park.

100-Lap Feature Race At Arlington Speedway
A 100-lap Eastern States championship stock car race is scheduled Saturday night at Arlington Speedway. This is the first century grind ever to be presented at the quarter-mile clay track in up-town Poughkeepsie.

Steve Danish of Cropsyville is one of the big favorites, along with Doug Benjamin, a consistent Arlington winner.

Another "Race of Doom" in which six cars are wrecked rounds out the program.

He started to do it in the second heat when he took command in the stretch and bounced home a length winner over the disappointing Duke of Lullwater. The Duke, pre-race favorite owned by Walter T. Candler of Decatur, Ga., had been second in the first heat, too. Time of this mile was 2:02 3/5, excellent considering the track was not at its best.

Then came the deciding heat. The crowd of some 15,000 had made the Duke favorite in the first two heats, but they switched to Sharp Note's bandwagon for the finale making him a 4 to 5 favorite.

Sharp Note didn't disappoint them. He permitted Lu Peck, one of two fillies in the race, to set the pace for a time. Then as the field rounded the bend for home, Shively let his horse go, and Sharp Note flew to the wire a couple of lengths ahead of Hit Song, with Duke of Lullwater third. Time for the final heat was 2:03 2/5.

running track, Yonkers, due to the wartime travel restrictions.

Since retiring to stud, Phonograph had never sired a son or daughter that did anything worth mentioning until Sharp Note's number went up on the tote board yesterday.

74-Year-Old Driver
Bi Shively, 74, a veteran of the Spanish American war who served in the Philippine Islands, drove the winner—his first Hambletonian victory in three tries. In doing so, he became the oldest driver to win one. Ben White, now 79, and winner of four Hambletonians, was the oldest until now. He was 70 when he reined Volo Song home.

Sharp Note, whose dam is Rose Mary Hanover by Guy McKinney, broke stride at the start of the opening heat, and finished tenth as Hit Song won in 2:05 on a track made sticky by rains of Wednesday. In fact the day's racing program was an hour and a half late in getting underway as workers with trucks and scrapers got mud off the track. It was well

Stops Chez Emile 3-1 for Team's Second Straight

Single by Decker Is Only Safety

George Telepas authored the first one-hit pitching job in the City League this season yesterday, stopping Chez Emile, 3 to 1, for the second straight Colonial Merchant victory of the round.

A clean single to center by Al Decker in the third inning ruined Telepas' chances for a no-hitter. He was touched for an unearned run in the seventh. Bruce "Red" Hinkley was the losing pitcher.

The impressive hurling chore by Telepas followed in the wake of a similar stint by Angie Fondino and sets up a clear pattern for the second round.

Jones Dairy leads with three straight victories and the Merchants have two. Between Telepas and Fondino, the Merchants appear to be the only club with a chance to prevent a Jones Dairy sweep. Wiltyck Motors boasts a 2-1 record but has not been able to win clutch games like it did in 1951.

Decker Is Spoiler

Aside from Decker's solid single which he wasted by getting hung up between first and second on the outfield relay, the only other threat to Telepas was a sharp liner to center by George Glasier on which Joe Carlino made a nice running catch.

The Merchants went ahead 1-0 in the third on back-to-back singles by M. Carlino and Orlando Felipe and an infield out by Charlie Engle.

The two sixth-inning tallies were the result of run scoring singles by Telepas and Andy Juhl behind Bobby Post's walk and a single by Dunham.

Chuzzle on Skids
Chez Emile, sinking to its lowest estate in the two league in many moons, virtually eliminated itself from the second round. They escaped the ignominy of a shutout in their last turn at bat. Bill Olsen, their big gun, led off with a walk, went to second on an infield out and scored on M. Carlino's boot of Joe Norton's grounder. Norton reached base three times on two walks and the error.

No player on either side collected more than one safety and there wasn't an extra base knock among the eight hits in the boxscore.

Boulevard Gulf and Chez Emile are scheduled in Sunday's game.

High Point Scores First Olive Win

High Point scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh to nose out West Hurley, 8-7, for its first Olive Memorial League victory yesterday on its home grounds.

Tarlrow, High Point pitcher, moved into the seventh inning with a 5-2 lead but the Hurleyites batted around to score five runs and move ahead, 7-5.

The winners were not to be denied, however, and pitcher Tarlrow started the winning rally by getting a life on Glass' fumble. Randall singled, the next two men went out but Newman slammed a three-run homer to decide the issue.

Garrison, the losing pitcher, hit a double and homer in his own cause. Goldstein and Randall each clubbed two safeties, but the big blow, of course, was Newman's Frank Merriwell blast.

The SCORE Board

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Stanky, the brash freshman, and Steve O'Neill, the old graybeard back for another try, are turning the National League into a four-club race while Brooklyn and New York trade punches in a private neighborhood brawl.

Preoccupied in their personal feud, the Dodgers and Giants seem to be concerned only with the yes or no of "a miracle of '52." The Brooks gather around Chuck Dressen to "Stop the Giants" and the Giants charge at Leo Durocher's call to "Remember Last Year." Neither pays much attention to the onrushing Cards and Phillies.

The Cards closed to within 8 1/2 games of the first place Dodgers last night by whipping Cincinnati, 7-4, as Brooklyn rebounded from an afternoon 8-2 defeat to top New York in the night half of their day-night doubleheader, 7-5.

Phillies on Spree
Philadelphia, winning 28 of 40 starts since O'Neill replaced Eddie Sawyer as manager, swept a pair from the Boston Braves, 2-1 and 10-2 behind Robin Roberts and Russ Meyer. Roberts' three-hitter was his 17th victory.

Nobody gained anything in the American, except the seventh-place St. Louis Browns who are too far back to make any difference. The leading New York Yankees split with Washington, losing the first 4-2 but coping the second 7-1 on Bob Kuzava's four-hitter. The Boston Red Sox dropped the first of two at Philadelphia, 7-5 but came back to break even, 8-4. The Browns won their second straight 12-inning game, from Detroit, 5-4, on Gordon Goldsberry's double.

Cleveland and Chicago in the American and Chicago and Pittsburgh in the National were not scheduled.

Dodgers Save Series
The "big" series in the Polo Grounds went to the Giants, two games to one, but their bid for a dramatic sweep fell short. As a result they picked up only one game on the Dodgers and still trail by 5 1/2 games.

Al Corbin Durocher's surprise starter in the day game, must think you pitch every game when you get in the majors. Recalled from Minneapolis in time to appear in both games last Sunday, Corbin hasn't missed yet. When he relieved in the night game it was his fifth straight appearance in five games since he joined the team.

Hoyt Wilhelm's dancing knuckler helped Corbin home with his second win in the day game as Hank Thompson, Al Dark and Dave Williams ripped into loser Erskine and two others for 12 hits. Hank Thompson hit a homer and the Dodgers cooperated with two errors by Pee Wee Reese, a passed ball by Roy Campanella and a balk by Erskine.

The Dodgers made short work of George Spencer, Durocher's second surprise starter, after the Durocher night ceremonies. Campanella's bases-loaded home run in the first 4-0 bulge in the first Billy Cox and Jackie Robinson homered off reliever Hal Gregg in the second.

Giants Stage Rally
But the Giants weren't done yet. They came back with five in the fifth, knocking out Ben Wade. Whitey Lockman's three-run homer off reliever Joe Black was the big blow of the inning. But they never could quite catch up as Black earned his seventh win with a 4-2-3 inning mop-up job.

The day-night double drew a total of 63,834 customers.

Card rookie Mike Clark, just up from Houston, rescued Harry Brecheen in the third to shut out Cincinnati the rest of the way for his first big league victory.

Julio Moreno survived a 12-hit attack to post his first win over the Yankees in his three-year major league career in the first game. Kuzava's fine pitching and the hitting of Gene Woodling and Johnny Mize kept intact the Yanks' three game lead over idle Cleveland.

Gus Zerenial hit his 20th and 21st homers and batted home five runs for the A's in their first game decision over the Red Sox. Al Benton held Philadelphia to two hits in the last 4 2/3 innings in a fine relief job that saved the second game for Boston.

KAA Little Leaguers Send Newell Against Nationals' Ivor Dingae

Berth in Finals At Stake Today In Crucial Game

Both Pitchers Rank With Tourney's Best

Southpaw Glenn Newell goes against the powerful Poughkeepsie Nationals and Ivor Dingae in a win-or-lose District 3 Little League tournament semi-final this evening at the 156th FA diamond.

Newell, a polished performer in his first tournament outing, meets an equally capable hurler in Dingae, who stopped Hyde Park, 6 to 1, on three hits and struck out 10 batters in his tournament debut.

Today's victor moves into the tournament finals Saturday at 3 o'clock against the Poughkeepsie Town Americans.

KAA Little League officials expect the largest crowd to date of an old-fashioned pitching duel between Newell and Dingae. A 1-0 decision either way is not unexpected.

Pitchers Ready

The KAA forces under Coaches Bill Thomas and John Hasbrouck have their pitching staff in top shape for the big test. Besides the regular "Big Four" of Newell, Dan Steltz, Timmy Fisher and Charlie Boice, they have in Tom Van Etten, a second sacker, a capable relief flinger.

If Newell gets by the Poughkeepsie Nationals who yesterday thumped Hopewell Junction, 6 to 3, the call goes to Big Dan Steltz in Saturday's climatic contest against the Bridge City foe. If not Steltz, the KAA board of strategy may pull a Howard Emhke with Charlie Boice.

Cutten Is Winner

Harold Cutten of the Nationals stopped Hopewell Junction on three scattered hits and struck out nine in yesterday's clash in which a five-run rally in the fourth inning resolved the issue. The winners collected nine hits off two Hopewell Junction pitch-

Layne Predicts Kayo Over Charles

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 8 (AP)—Youthful heavyweight Rex Layne said today he is going after Ezzard Charles in their 10-round bout tonight like he was fighting for the title.

"I'm going to knock him out," Layne said, "and I'll be after him all the way." But the 24-year-old Lewiston, Utah, strongboy said he'd rather not predict the round.

But Charles and his handlers had a different version of the outcome. "Ezzy is ready for Rex," Jake Mintz, Charles' co-manager announced, "if he should lose this one, he's about through. But a victory tonight will put him back in the picture."

Although both Layne and Charles have beaten heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott, the fight reputation of each is sagging badly after recent losses.

There will be no television or radio broadcast.

Merchants Book Two Games Sunday

Manager Bill "Pucker" Davis' Colonial Merchants have an off day Sunday from regulation play in the City Baseball League but that's where their idleness ends.

Breaking up his charges into two squads, Davis will send one group to Grand Gorge for a 2:05 p. m. encounter while the other team will travel to Woodstock for another afternoon tussle.

Ange Fondino and George Telepas are due for mound work against Grand Gorge, which according to the local pilot, has picked off 26 straight victories.

Andy Juhl will do the catching in the Grand Gorge tilt.

Joe Modica and Bob Shlightner are scheduled to divide pitching chores in the Woodstock clash with Boice doing the catching.

Win for Ankaway

Westbury, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ankaway cracked the winning column last night in his 10th start of the 1952 season when Billy Houghtaling drove the six-year-old pecker to a head victory in the featured Hither Hills race in 2:04 1/5 at Roosevelt Raceway. Casanova was second and Sep Hanover third. Ankaway paid $8.20, $6.30 and $3.80.

Elks Nine Defeats Rotary, 3 to 1; American Legion Leads By Game

Fraternal League Expects Big Crowd

BULLETIN—Today's scheduled "big game" between the Rotary and American Legion in the Fraternal Youth League has been postponed.

The American Legion is out in front by a full game in its torrid duel with the Rotary in the Fraternal Youth League.

The Elks surprised the Rotary in yesterday's game to put the Rotarians a full game behind the Legion.

Jim Palumbo stopped the Rotary cold on two scattered singles yesterday to gain a 3-1 decision over Dick Nagele in handing Rotary its second loss of the campaign.

The Rotary setback increased the American Legion's first place margin to a full game. The Legion can move out by itself with a victory today, while Rotary is marshalling its forces to create a tie.

The Elks scored their three runs in the second inning, combining Jim Nerone's triple and singles by Nick Kearney and Jack Redmond with some loose fielding by the Rotary. The winners collected five hits off Nagele who struck out seven.

Nerone Starts Rally

Nerone tripled to launch the rally and scored on Nagele's error after Ron Jansen fled out. Redmond singled and reached third on successive passed balls.

Tom Davitt walked and Redmond scored the second run when the second baseman miscued on a force play on Davitt. A fielder's choice loaded the bases and Nick Kearney drilled a single to right field chasing Davitt across the plate.

Palumbo lost his shutout in the second inning when Houghtaling and Lindhurst connected for the two Rotary safeties. Houghtaling led off with a single, stole second, advanced to third on an infield out and rode home on Lindhurst's blow. The Rotarians had runners on base in the third, fourth and sixth but failed to come up with the payoff hits. The Elks also had chances in the third and fourth.

The seven hits in the game went to seven different players, with Jim Nerone's triple the only extra base hit.

Oakland, Calif.—Frank Buford-Leonard Morrow heavyweight bout postponed to Aug. 16.

100-Lap Feature Race At Arlington Speedway

A 100-lap Eastern States championship stock car race is scheduled Saturday night at Arlington Speedway. This is the first century grind ever to be presented at the quarter-mile clay track in up-town Poughkeepsie.

Steve Danish of Cropseyville is one of the big favorites, along with Doug Benjamin, a consistent Arlington winner.

Another "Race of Doom" in which six cars are wrecked rounds out the program.

Goshen, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sharp Note played a sweet $47,236 tune in the 27th Hambletonian stake, and his daddy—Phonograph—isn't a failure as a sire after all.

The bay three-year-old son of Phonograph copped the $87,637 trotting derby at Good Time Park yesterday, doing the job in two straight heats after Hit Song won the first dash.

Sharp Note is owned by C. W. Clark, Dearborn, Mich., tool and die maker, who got the colt as a yearling from the Walnut Hall Farm, Lexington, Ky., for $1,000.

A year ago this month, Phonograph was discarded as a failure in the stud. He was bought for a reported $10,000 by Charles Gorman of Riverview Farm, Marcy, N.Y.

Phonograph had raced in the 1943 Hambletonian, but could do no better than third behind Volio Song and Worthy Boy. That race was staged at the Empire City

McGrath Champion At Table Tennis

Jack McGrath of Cornell Park defeated his teammate, Donald Davis, in straight sets, 21-12 and 21-15, to capture the city senior park table tennis championship yesterday at St. Mary's Field.

McGrath moved into the finals with a one set, 21-19, squeaker over Jimmy Woods of Block Park, while Davis turned back Red Smith of Hutton Park, 21-16.

There were two entries from each playground. Jack McGrath and Donald Davis represented Cornell Park. Jim Woods and Jack Houghtaling played under the Block Park banner. Other entries included Tom Neal and Jack Armstrong, St. Mary's; Joe Aiello and Red Smith, Hutton Park; Richard Dempsey and Bob Leverenz, Hasbrouck Park.

Judges for the contests were Carol Mehm, Block Park; Barbara Hearst, Cornell Park; Pat Sanford, Hutton Park; Barbara Schultz, Lorraine McGinnis, Hasbrouck Park.

100-Lap Feature Race At Arlington Speedway

A 100-lap Eastern States championship stock car race is scheduled Saturday night at Arlington Speedway. This is the first century grind ever to be presented at the quarter-mile clay track in up-town Poughkeepsie.

Steve Danish of Cropseyville is one of the big favorites, along with Doug Benjamin, a consistent Arlington winner.

Another "Race of Doom" in which six cars are wrecked rounds out the program.

Sharp Note Wins 27th Running Of Hambletonian for $87,637

Sweeps Second and Third Heats

Goshen, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sharp Note played a sweet $47,236 tune in the 27th Hambletonian stake, and his daddy—Phonograph—isn't a failure as a sire after all.

The bay three-year-old son of Phonograph copped the $87,637 trotting derby at Good Time Park yesterday, doing the job in two straight heats after Hit Song won the first dash.

Sharp Note is owned by C. W. Clark, Dearborn, Mich., tool and die maker, who got the colt as a yearling from the Walnut Hall Farm, Lexington, Ky., for $1,000.

A year ago this month, Phonograph was discarded as a failure in the stud. He was bought for a reported $10,000 by Charles Gorman of Riverview Farm, Marcy, N.Y.

Phonograph had raced in the 1943 Hambletonian, but could do no better than third behind Volio Song and Worthy Boy. That race was staged at the Empire City running track, Yonkers, due to the wartime travel restrictions.

Since retiring to stud, Phonograph had never sired a son or daughter that did anything worth mentioning until Sharp Note's number went up on the tote board yesterday.

71-Year-Old Driver

Bi Shively, 74, a veteran of the Spanish American war who served in the Philippine Islands, drove the winner—his first Hambletonian victory in three tries. In doing so, he became the oldest driver to win one. Ben White, now 79, and winner of four Hambletonians, was the oldest until now. He was 70 when he reined Volio Song home.

Sharp Note, whose dam is Rose Mary Hanover by Guy McKinney, broke stride at the start of the opening heat, and finished tenth as Hit Song won in 2:05 on a track made sticky by rains of Wednesday. In fact the day's racing program was an hour and a half late in getting underway as workers with trucks and scrapers got mud off the track. It was well

Stops Chez Emile 3-1 for Team's Second Straight

Single by Decker Is Only Safety

George Telepas authored the first one-hit pitching job in the City League this season yesterday, stopping Chez Emile, 3 to 1, for the second straight Colonial Merchant victory of the round.

A clean single to center by Al Decker in the third inning ruined Telepas' chances for a no-hitter. He was touched for an unearned run in the seventh. Bruce "Red" Hinkley was the losing pitcher.

The impressive hurling chore by Telepas followed in the wake of a similar stunt by Angie Fondino and sets up a clear pattern for the second round.

Jones Dairy leads with three straight victories and the Merchants have two. Between Telepas and Fondino, the Merchants appear to be the only club with a chance to prevent a Jones Dairy sweep. Wilwytz Motors boasts a 2-1 record but has not been able to win clutch games like it did in 1951.

Decker Is Spoiler

Aside from Decker's solid single which he wasted by getting hung up between first and second on the outfield relay, the only other threat to Telepas was a sharp liner to center by George Glaser on which Joe Carino made a nice running catch.

The Merchants went ahead 1-0 in the third on back-to-back singles by M. Carino and Orlando Felipe and an infield out by Charlie Engle.

The two sixth-inning tallies were the result of run scoring singles by Telepas and Andy Juhl behind Bobby Post's walk and a single by Dunham.

Cherries on Skids

Chez Emile, sinking to its lowest estate in the two league in many moons, virtually eliminated itself from the second round. They escaped the ignominy of a shutout in their last turn at bat. Bill Olen, their big gun, led off with a walk, went to second on an infield out and scored on M. Carino's boot of Joe Norton's grounder. Norton reached base three times on two walks and the error.

No player on either side collected more than one safety and there wasn't an extra base knock among the eight hits in the box score.

Boulevard Gulf and Chez Emile are scheduled in Sunday's game. The boxscore:

High Point Scores First Olive Win

High Point scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh to nose out West Hurley, 8-7, for its first Olive Memorial League victory yesterday on its home grounds.

Tarlow, High Point pitcher, moved into the seventh inning with a 5-2 lead but the Hurleyites battled around to score five runs and move ahead, 7-5.

The winners were not to be denied, however, and pitcher Tarlow started the winning rally by getting a life on Glass' fumble. Randall singled, the next two men went out but Newman slammed a three-run homer to decide the issue.

Garrison, the losing pitcher, hit a double and homer in his own cause. Goldstein and Randall each clubbed two safeties but the big blow, of course, was Newman's Frank Merriwell blast.

Tokyo (AP)—Japan has accorded diplomatic privileges and immunities to United Nations representatives and officials in Japan "on the business of the United Nations." Apparently the agreement applies to UN representatives and officials and not to UN soldiers, since a separate agreement covering UN troops is being worked out. The Japanese Diet has approved the diplomatic agreement, which remains in effect for five years.

Rhinebeck Speedway Plans Three Features

Rhinebeck Speedway has planned three features for stock car fans in the regular Saturday night offering this week.

Seven NASCAR-sanctioned stock car races are scheduled capped by a 25-lap feature in which Larry Shurter, of West Shokan, is long overdue and a heavy favorite to win.

A special non-Ford race is scheduled during the intermission for local and area drivers. Vinnie Becker of Red Hook will put on a flip show, deliberately sending his car end over end from a ramp as the final attraction.

Hamilton Cops Junior Tennis

George Hamilton of Block Park is the 1952 junior table tennis champion of the city's playground system.

The Block Park ace defeated Pierre Perlman of Forsyth Park in a brilliant championship final yesterday, 22-20, 22-0, to climax a season-long elimination in the various parks.

Each park was represented by two players in the senior and junior division of the tournament. En route to the finals, Hamilton defeated Bobby Millett of Hutton Park and George Uhl of St. Mary's Park. Perlman squeezed by Ken Groat of Forsyth Park, 21-19, 21-15 in his semi-final match.

The finalists included Ken Groat and Pierre Perlman of Forsyth Park; Bob Planthaber and George Uhl, St. Mary's; Bob Millett and Ronald Schoonmaker, Hutton; George Hamilton and Charlie Diers, Block Park; John Ferro and Pete Holmes, Cornell; Don Duffy and Bob Burns, Hasbrouck Park.

Referees and judges for the competition were play ground directors Barbara Schwartz, Block; Lorraine McGinnis, Hasbrouck; Jackie Steudling, Forsyth; Bea Newkirk, Hutton; Diana Schultz, Hasbrouck; Barbara Hearst, Cornell; Bernie Redmond, Recreation Center.

Golf
Chicago—Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., and Pete Cooper of White Plains, N. Y., took the first round lead in the "world" pro tournament with a 65.

Chicago—Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., shot a 68 to take the first round lead in Tam O'Shanter "world" championship. Chicago—Betty Jameson of San Antonio took the first round lead in the women's "world" pro championship with a 72.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Start Crying If Your Hand's Poor

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Many a player would be so discouraged at holding the miserable East cards in the hand shown to the right that he would sling the cards out woodenly and resentfully. When B. Jay Becker held the East hand, however, he discovered an opportunity to make a highly artistic false card.

West opened the king of diamonds, continued with the ace of diamonds, and then led out three rounds of clubs. It was now up to South to win the rest of the tricks.

South looked at the dummy disconsolately. He could reach dummy only once, and therefore could not finesse through East for both of the missing queens. He was tempted to lay down the king of hearts and finesse through West for the queen of hearts, after which he could finesse through East for the queen of spades.

The flaw in this plan was that West could hardly be expected to show up with heart length in view of his jump bid in diamonds. South finally decided to finesse through East for the queen of trumps and then rely on dropping the queen of spades. It seemed like a slim hope, but it had the supreme virtue of being absolutely accurate.

South therefore led a low heart to dummy's ace, and it was at this point that Becker demonstrated his artistry. He simply dropped the nine of hearts.

This put a different face upon matters, so far as South was concerned. Apparently the queen of hearts was going to drop without a finesse. Hence South could use his single entry to dummy for the spade finesse instead of for the trump finesse.

South therefore led the jack of spades and let it ride for a finesse. West was happy to win with the queen of spades, and carefully returned his remaining spade. When South next laid down the king of hearts, he discovered he had been diddled.

Becker produced a low heart and took the second setting trick with the queen of hearts. If Becker had played the hearts "normally," however, South would have made his contract instead of being set two tricks.

Iran Makes Offer
To Talk Oil Money

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 8 (AP)—Iran offered today to negotiate with the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company over compensation due the company for nationalization of its holdings here.

If direct talks are fruitless, Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government said in a note to the British Embassy, the company can submit its claims to Iranian courts. The British government holds 51 per cent of the stock in Anglo-Iranian, a 1 1/2 billion dollar concern.

The Iranian government also demanded immediate payment of money due it by the oil company and the release of 14 million pounds ($39,200,000) in Iranian assets frozen in British banks.

The government gave no figure on its own claims other than to say the amount comes to "tens of millions of pounds."

It said that if payments are delayed or if the company and the British government continue "illegal activities" to prevent the sale of Iranian oil, "all these losses which may result will be the responsibility of the British government and the former company."

The note was the first on the oil question since talks between Mossadegh and British Charge D'Affaires George Middleton ended last week in a dispute over the side had suggested arbitration of the question.

Report Iraq Ratifies
Arab Security Pact

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 8 (AP)—Iraq was reported today to have ratified the seven-nation Arab League's Collective Security Pact, bringing the treaty into force in 15 days.

The Baghdad newspaper Al Misri said Iraq's acceptance of the pact was received yesterday by the league secretary. Ratification of four nations was required to bring the agreement into force, and Egypt, Jordan and Syria already had approved it.

The pact calls for common defense and economic cooperation among the members of the league, which include Saudi Arabia, Lebanon and Yemen.

Al Misri said the military commanders of the Arab states would be called to meet shortly to discuss implementation of the pact.

The Arab Security Pact previously had been proposed by some Arab authorities as a possible nucleus for a Middle East defense arrangement following Egyptian refusal to participate with Britain and the United States in a western-sponsored setup.

Reds Won't Heed
Bomb Warnings

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Communist leaders, urged by the U. S. Air Force to evacuate 78 Korean cities whose military targets are marked for bombing, showed no sign today of moving out any people.

Secretary of the Air Force Finletter, in a statement at the Pentagon yesterday, told newsmen: "If the Communists will work with us, we can hold down the not entirely avoid civilian casualties. We have to destroy these military objectives and equipment because they will be used against our boys."

The Far East Air chief, Gen. Otto T. Weyland, messaged there had been no mass exodus of civilians from the 78 areas. In reply to specific questions put to him by the Associated Press, Weyland said:

"Far East Air Force operational policy is to attack and destroy these military targets whenever and wherever they are found."

Since July 13, the Far East Air Force has reported, more than 1 1/2 million leaflets—warning of impending air assaults—have been dropped over North Korea.

Sometimes, Weyland said, civilians are warned by radio about 15 minutes before the bombs fall. The radio warning, he said, is repeated at intervals until zero hour.

The air force has not disclosed the precise schedule of operations against the 78 population centers.

Pickets Protest Against Claybon Extradition

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ten pickets paraded in front of the National Republican Club last night in protest against the extradition of George Claybon, who escaped from a Georgia prison camp.
The pickets, sponsored by the Civil Rights Congress, carried signs and distributed leaflets urging Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to cancel his signature on extradition papers for Claybon's return to Georgia. Claybon is under a life sentence on a murder conviction.
There was no disorder, police said, during the hour and a half demonstration.
The Republican Club here is comprised largely of GOP metropolitan area members.
The Civil Rights Congress is listed as subversive by the U. S. attorney general's office.

Race Wire Rental Plan Condemned

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—A Western Union plan for restricting its race wire rentals to press services, publications having second class mailing privileges, and licensed broadcasting stations appeared headed for the discard today.
Fanny N. Litvin, Federal Communications Commission (FCC) examiner who held hearings on the proposal earlier this year, condemned it in no uncertain terms late yesterday.

She reported to the commission that the plan, by a "common carrier" serving the general public would be illegal and unconstitutional and also would not achieve the announced purpose of depriving bookmakers of rapid reception of horse and dog racing results.
The examiner's findings were issued in the form of an initial FCC decision, proposed to be made final in 40 days.

Would Complicate Things
Miss Litvin noted that Florida state officials testified that projected new regulation would merely put "a front of respectability" on possible illegal use of Western Union facilities and would complicate local law enforcement efforts.
And, she said, "Western Union has not at all times in the past and does not in the future desire to utilize measures presently available to it to protect its service from unlawful use."
She referred to the fact that present Western Union regulations forbid the use of its wires for unlawful purposes and asserted that if the company desired to do so, it could instruct its employees to report evidence of illegal use and solicit the help of local law officials to eliminate gambler-customers.

The Eighth Army estimated Chinese losses at 257 killed and 300 wounded in the battle for the step hill.
Chinese and North Korean artillery and mortar guns boomed loudly across the entire front, but little action was reported from the western and eastern sectors.

Judge Denies . . .

nexed as an exhibit. It describes an interview with the defendant at the prison and states that, as the result of such interview, "it is the impression of the undersigned that this man was suffering from involutional psychosis during the several months preceding and at the time of the commission of the crime." Considering the defendant to be "completely oriented" at the present time, he states that "there is considerable question as to his legal responsibility at the time of the commission of the crime; this being a matter, however, for decision by the courts at that time and cannot be estimated one way or the other by the examiner at the present time." The supplemental affidavit states certain facts as to the psychiatrist's qualifications and adds the opinion of counsel, stated on information and belief that such psychiatrist would testify that the defendant, at the time of the homicide, did not know the nature and quality of his acts or that they were wrong.
The power to direct a new trial in a criminal case "is created and measured by the statute." Code of Criminal Procedure, Section 463. Peo. v. Schmidt, 216 N. Y. 424.

Requirements Deferred
The requirements where a new trial is sought on the ground of newly discovered evidence are rigidly defined by statute and judicial opinion. Section 465, Subd. 7, of the Code provides that a new trial may be had.
"Where it is made to appear, by affidavit, that upon another trial defendant can produce evidence such as, if before received, would probably have changed the verdict; if such evidence has been discovered since the trial, is not cumulative, and the failure to produce it on the trial was not owing to want of diligence."
Such statutory requirements were restated and emphasized in Peo. v. Priori, 164 N. Y. 459.

Says It Falls
The present application falls completely in meeting such tests. The evidence is hearsay. No sworn proof by anyone who would be competent to testify to the facts is submitted, nor does the unsworn report attached to counsel's original affidavit measure up to the legal requirement of indicating such mental state as prevented the defendant from knowing the nature and quality of his act or that it was wrong. Peo. v. Coleman, 198 N. Y. 166; Peo. v. Odell, 189 N. Y. 304; Peo. v. Stielow, 160 N. Y. 555.

The evidence is cumulative. It is of the same nature as that testified to by Dr. Cumming at the trial and seeks to establish the same fact. Peo. v. Jones, 115 N. Y. 800; aff'd. 194 N. Y. 83; Peo. v. O'Connor, 37 Misc. 754; aff'd. 82 A.D. 55, 175 N. Y. 517.
The evidence is not newly discovered. As stated in Peo. v. Cassidy, 113 Misc. 676:
"The opinion of physicians based upon facts that existed at and before the trial cannot be regarded as in any sense newly discovered evidence."
Finally, the evidence is not such as to justify a conclusion that, if produced at the trial, it would probably have changed the verdict. The court's familiarity with the record and proceedings at the trial impels such conclusion.

Addressed to Court
The present application is addressed to the sound discretion of the court. Its decision involves an inquiry whether substantial justice has been done. The conclusion reached in Peo. v. Stielow, supra, is singularly appropriate here, as are the following words quoted therefrom:
"If justice were done; if evidence possessing inherent indications of credibility were presented satisfying the requirements of the statute—it would be the duty of the court, and that duty would be performed without hesitation, to grant a new trial notwithstanding the delay in bringing the new matters to the attention of the court. But the court is not unmindful that something is due to the law and to its orderly administration."

Mediation Parley Aimed at Strike Of 20,000 Railmen

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The National Mediation Board today set up a conference aimed at heading off a threatened strike, which could affect 20,000 workers, against the New York Central Railroad.
If called, the strike would start at noon Monday, a union spokesman said in Cleveland.
Three railroad unions yesterday authorized their New York representatives to call a walkout, if necessary, against the carrier's lines east of Buffalo. The issues are grievances and working conditions dating back two years.

Ask Postponement
When notified, the board last night asked the unions to postpone any strike action pending the outcome of federal mediation efforts.
A board spokesman said a company-union-board conference could begin today in New York and might continue as long as two weeks.

There was no immediate reply from the unions. The New York Central agreed to meet with the board and promised full cooperation.
The strike plan was announced in Cleveland yesterday by a spokesman for the brotherhood of locomotive engineers. It followed by a day a breakdown in union-company negotiations. No date was set for resumption of these talks.

Three Sign Order
The spokesman said the strike authorization was signed by James P. Shields, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; David B. Robertson, president of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and Roy O. Hughes, president of the order of Railway Conductors.

He said they authorized the strike on condition it would not begin before early next week. He declined to elaborate.

A Buffalo would affect 6,000 members of these three unions and could idle 14,000 other workers.

No Cause Verdict In Sterly Case

A verdict of no cause of action was returned by a city court jury yesterday afternoon following trial before City Judge Raymond J. Mino of an action to recover $314 on the claim of unsatisfactory workmanship in the making of garments.
The action was brought by Mrs. Clarice Sneed, of Gainesville, Fla., against Frank J. and Katie R. Sterly, furriers of 744 Broadway.

The plaintiff contended that the garments were made with materials supplied by her, that the workmanship was not satisfactory and they were not properly fitted. She sought to recover for the money paid for the work and also that paid for the materials. These claims were denied by the defendants' witnesses.
Attorney Howard C. St. John appeared for the plaintiff and Harry H. Flemming for the defendants.

As Pegler Sees It

in booze till the dawn's early light.
Miss Lewis says Pegler really meant that "the American common man is just not capable of ruling himself; not capable of choice."
On that point we understand each other. That is precisely what I did mean. I could not have put it better. Not only is he incapable of self-rule, as the founding fathers wisely foresaw, but the fraudulent system which has come into being under the convention scheme makes it absolutely impossible for him to select candidates of his own preference. Under the constitution, the preference was delegated to the several states to be expressed through their legislative bodies composed of men elected by the common man to exercise superior wisdom for him.

The common man never expressed any desire for a labor relations board. That was the desire of John L. Lewis, F. D. Roosevelt and other conspirators. Their purpose was to drag the common man into unions which would have job-monopolies and a vast power to tax the gross national payroll in the interest of the party.

But the common man is such a gullible fellow that pretty soon he was convinced that the demand for this predatory, dictatorial monstrosity, with its appalling criminal record, actually came from him. However, the record shows absolutely no popular desire for the Labor Relations Board, the A. F. of L., or the C.I.O.
The common man never has expressed any desire for the so-called civil rights program. This thing would punish a village where a man is caught in the act and lynched for rape but would exempt from punishment a nearby town where a law-abiding citizen is branded with a bat by a picket for trying to report for work at his regular job.
Nevertheless, the common man, that faceless object, pretending to select a nominee but ordered how to vote by rich men sitting in a box, spent most of his time fretting in his uncomprehending way over the phrasing of a plank on civil rights.

Miss Lewis thinks Pegler attacked "the very roots of our country's faith and ideals."
That is what we get for all those billions of taxes spent on our system of "education." They come out thinking "the people" are noble, but knowing better, and extolling government by "the people," who always hurt themselves when they get control.

If the people of the United States were allowed to vote tomorrow to grant $5,000 in $20 bills to every person having less than $5,000, that bill would pass

Pickets Protest Against Claybon Extradition

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ten pickets paraded in front of the National Republican Club last night in protest against the extradition of George Claybon, who escaped from a Georgia prison camp.

The pickets, sponsored by the Civil Rights Congress, carried signs and distributed leaflets urging Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to cancel his signature on extradition papers for Claybon's return to Georgia. Claybon is under a life sentence on a murder conviction.

There was no disorder, police said, during the hour and a half demonstration.

The Republican Club here is comprised largely of GOP metropolitan area members.

The Civil Rights Congress is listed as subversive by the U. S. attorney general's office.

Race Wire Rental Plan Condemned

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—A Western Union plan for renting its race wire rentals to press services, publications having second class mailing privileges, and licensed broadcasting stations appeared headed for the discard today.

Fanney N. Litvin, Federal Communications Commission (FCC) examiner who held hearings on the proposal earlier this year, condemned it in no uncertain terms late yesterday.

She reported to the commission that such a restriction by a "common carrier" serving the general public would be illegal and unconstitutional and also would not achieve the announced purpose of depriving bookmakers of rapid reception of horse and dog racing results.

The examiner's findings were issued in the form of an initial FCC decision, proposed to be made final in 40 days.

Would Complicate Things
 Miss Litvin noted that Florida state officials testified the project of new regulation would merely put "a front of respectability" on possible illegal use of Western Union facilities and would complicate local law enforcement efforts.

And, she said, "Western Union has not at all times in the past and does not in the future desire to utilize measures presently available to it to protect its service from unlawful use."

She referred to the fact that present Western Union regulations forbid the use of its wires for unlawful purposes and asserted that if the company desired to do so, it could instruct its employees to report evidence of illegal use and solicit the help of local law officials to eliminate gambler-customers.

Tough South Korean foot soldiers atop Capital Hill pitched Chinese troops down the rugged slope when the Reds tried to seize the prize outpost.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Chinese may have called it quits for a while.

It appeared that most of the Reds had pulled back into the hills to the north.

The Eighth Army estimated Chinese losses at 257 killed and 300 wounded in the battle for the steep hill.

Chinese and North Korean artillery and mortar guns boomed loudly across the entire front, but little action was reported from the western and eastern sectors.

jected a Red charge that a UN warplane flew over the Panmunjom neutral zone Aug. 4.

Red China's Peiping radio, in a propaganda blast, called Harrison a liar and a negotiator "with nothing to say."

The broadcast heard in Tokyo said "unless Washington changes its peace wrecking policy, Harrison will have an unenviable record of leading the American team of negotiators to bury the talks through long recesses and kill the peace in Korea."

Armistice negotiations, in a second weeklong recess, resume Monday.

In Seoul, South Korean President Syngman Rhee, told newsmen he "never had any hopes and I have none now" that the truce talks will achieve an armistice.

Two Tents Missing

Police were notified yesterday of the theft of two tents. At 5:30 p. m., Bernard Pauker, of 95 Washington avenue, said a green tent had been taken from his yard during the night. It was valued at $25. At 6:30 p. m., Jerry White, of 44 West O'Reilly street, reported the theft of a tent valued at $15. It was lettered "Troop 11," the report said.

Judge Denies . . .

nexed as an exhibit. It describes an interview with the defendant at the prison and states that, as the result of such interview, "it is the impression of the undersigned that this man was suffering from involutional psychosis during the several months preceding and at the time of the commission of the crime." Considering the defendant to be "completely oriented" at the present time, he states that "there is considerable question as to his legal responsibility at the time of the commission of the crime; this being a matter, however, for decision by the courts at that time and cannot be estimated one way or the other by the examiner at the present time." The supplemental affidavit states certain facts as to the psychiatrist's qualifications and adds the opinion of counsel, stated on information and belief, that such psychiatrist would testify that the defendant, at the time of the homicide, did not know the nature and quality of his acts or that they were wrong.

The power to direct a new trial in a criminal case "is created and measured by the statute." Code of Criminal Procedure, Section 463; Peo. v. Schmidt, 216 N. Y. 324.

Requirements Deferred
 The requirements where a new trial is sought on the ground of newly discovered evidence are rigidly defined by statute and judicial opinion. Section 463, Subd. 7, of the Code provides that a new trial may be had.

"Where it is made to appear, by affidavit, that upon another trial defendant can produce evidence such as, if before received, would probably have changed the verdict if such evidence has been discovered since the trial, is not cumulative and the failure to produce it on the trial was not owing to want of diligence."

Such statutory requirements were restated and emphasized in Peo. v. Priori, 164 N. Y. 459.

Says It Fails
 The present application fails completely in meeting such tests. The evidence is hearsay. No sworn proof by anyone who would be competent to testify to the facts is submitted, nor does the unsworn report attached to counsel's original affidavit measure up to the legal requirement of indicating such mental state as prevented the defendant from knowing the nature and quality of his act or that it was wrong. Peo. v. Coleman, 198 N. Y. 166; Peo. v. Odell, 189 N. Y. 304; Peo. v. Stielow, 160 N. Y. 555.

The evidence is cumulative. It is of the same nature as that testified to by Dr. Cummings at the trial and seeks to establish the same fact. Peo. v. Jones, 115 N. Y. 800; aff'd. 194 N. Y. 83; Peo. v. O'Connor, 37 Misc. 754; aff'd. 82 A.D. 55, 175 N. Y. 517.

The evidence is not newly discovered. As stated in Peo. v. Cassidy, 113 Misc. 676.

The opinion of physicians based upon facts that existed at and before the trial cannot be regarded as in any sense newly discovered evidence.

Finally, the evidence is not such as to justify a conclusion that, as cumulative at the trial, it would probably have changed the verdict. The court's familiarity with the record and proceedings at the trial impels such conclusion.

Addressed to Court

The present application is addressed to the sound discretion of the court. Its decision involves an inquiry whether substantial justice has been done. The conclusion reached in Peo. v. Stielow; supra, is singularly appropriate here, as are the following words quoted therefrom:

"If injustice were done; if evidence possessing inherent indications of credibility were presented satisfying the requirements of the statute—it would be the duty of the court, and that duty would be performed without hesitancy, to grant a new trial notwithstanding the delay in bringing the new matters to the attention of the court. But the court is not unmindful that something is due to the law and to its orderly administration."

"When a trial has been had in which every right of the defendant has been safeguarded by the court and by the prosecution as well, wherein the defendant has been ably and zealously represented by capable counsel, and when by the solemn judgment of the court the defendant has been convicted upon evidence which leaves no room for doubt as to his guilt, a new trial should not be granted unless it clearly appears that since the trial evidence has been newly discovered which, if before produced, would probably have changed the verdict, and which likewise meets the other requirements of the statute in question. Such a case is not presented." (Pages 565-6).

The motion is denied.

Mediation Parley Aimed at Strike Of 20,000 Railmen

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The National Mediation Board today set up a conference aimed at heading off a threatened strike, which could affect 20,000 workers, against the New York Central Railroad.

If called, the strike would start at noon Monday, a union spokesman said. Cleveland.

Three railroad unions yesterday authorized their New York representatives to call a walkout, if necessary, against the carrier's lines east of Buffalo. The issues are grievances and working conditions dating back two years.

Ask Postponement
 When notified, the board last night asked the unions to postpone any strike action pending the outcome of federal mediation efforts. A board spokesman said a company-union-board conference could begin today in New York and might continue as long as two weeks.

There was no immediate reply from the unions. The New York Central agreed to meet with the board and promised full cooperation.

The strike plan was announced in Cleveland yesterday by a spokesman for the brotherhood of locomotive engineers. It followed by a day a breakdown in union-company negotiations. No date was set for resumption of these talks.

Three Sign Order
 The spokesman said the strike authorization was signed by James P. Shields, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; David B. Robertson, president of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and Roy O. Hughes, president of the order of Railway Conductors.

He said they authorized the strike on condition it would not begin before early next week. He declined to elaborate.

A New York Central strike east of Buffalo would affect 6,000 members of these three unions and could idle 14,000 other workers.

No Cause Verdict In Sterly Case

A verdict of no cause of action was returned by a city court jury yesterday afternoon following trial before City Judge Raymond J. Mino of an action to recover $314 on the claim of unsatisfactory workmanship in the making of garments.

The action was brought by Mrs. Clarice Snead, of Gainesville, Fla., against Frank J. and Katie R. Sterly, furriers of 744 Broadway.

The plaintiff contended that the garments were made with materials supplied by her, that the workmanship was not satisfactory and they were not properly fitted. She sought to recover for the money paid for the work and also that paid for the materials. These claims were denied by the defendants' witnesses.

Attorney Howard C. St. John appeared for the plaintiff and Harry H. Flemming for the defendants.

Middlehope Girl Critically Hurt

Three Middlehope residents were injured—one of them critically—in an accident on Route 9W one mile south of the state police station at Highland early today.

Patricia Fallon, 22, of Middlehope was on the "critical list" at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie early this afternoon, hospital authorities reported. Joseph Fallon, 24, was reported in "fair" condition.

Troopers of the Highland station said the Fallons, whom they believe are brother and sister, were riding in an automobile driven by Joseph Falanga, 34, also of Middlehope, when the vehicle upset after striking the center island in the divided highway shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. Falanga was also injured, troopers said, but apparently not seriously.

Three Die in Crash

Seattle, Aug. 8 (AP)—A light airplane crashed and burned near Mount Baldy, 30 miles southeast of here, yesterday killing the pilot and two passengers. The pilot was tentatively identified as E. W. Cleveland, of Cleveland, O., one of the nation's pioneer aviators. With him were two women. Cleveland, 62, known to hundreds of aviators as "Pop", had logged more than 10,000 hours in 41 years of flying.

Drouth Appears Broken in Sections

(By The Associated Press)
 The billion dollar drouth in New England and the south appeared broken today and government agencies moved swiftly to get weather-harassed farmers back into production.

The immediate goals:
 1. To get feed to hungry livestock on burned out pastures and prevent premature slaughtering.
 2. To get fall planting started.

The Agriculture Department ordered a survey of excess hay supplies in the Midwest. It directed chairmen of state agricultural mobilization committees from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois to look into the possibility of obtaining hay in those states.

Four County Vets In From Orient

One transport carrying troops from the Orient has arrived on the west coast and another was due today with rotation soldiers, four of whom are Ulster county men, including two Kingstonians.

The Kingston men are Cpl. Robert A. Lammon, 31 Shufeldt street, and Cpl. Joseph S. Simon, 117 Green street.

Cpl. Lammon came in on the Gen. William Black, Wednesday, with the other Ulster men, Sgt. Vincent Dorezo, North road, Highland, and M/Sgt. Roger P. Slater, Box 131, Kerhonkson. They landed at San Francisco.

Cpl. Simon was due at Seattle, Wash., today on the Marine Adder with 2,999 rotation troops.
